Interpreting the MMPI-2-RF Yossef S. Ben-Porath, Detailed and practical instruction for interpreting the newly published MMPI 2 RF    The Clinical Interpretation of MMPI-2 Edward E. Gotts, Thomas E. Knudsen, 2005-03-23 In a managed care era the MMPI 2 is becoming an overloaded workhorse required to generate more and more of the assessments that a battery of instruments once did. Though all now rely on the MMPI 2 for good reasons and the MMPI has fallen out of use entirely some important and clinically useful scales were lost in the transition. Edward Gotts and Thomas Knudsen have recovered these scales and integrated them with all the standard MMPI 2 scales. The recently published Restructured Clinical Scales and a number of scales they have constructed to assess positive strengths and coping abilities and response consistency inconsistency. This book lays out their new Content Cluster interpretive approach. Drawing on data from a large psychiatric inpatient sample they present item composition, reliability and validity information for each recovered and new scale and convincingly demonstrate that their new Content Cluster approach results in improved prediction and interpretive power. They also show how to conjoin Rorschach and MMPI 2 results in more effective assessment strategies and how to tie MMPI 2 results to specific DSM IV criteria. The Clinical Interpretation of the MMPI 2: A Content Cluster Approach offers psychologists essential new tools for clinical and personality assessment.

Handbook of Neuropsychological Assessment Antonio E. Puente, Robert J. McCaffrey, 1992-08-31 The growth of clinical neuropsychology has been unprecedented This growth has been oriented more toward the provision of than toward the foundation for services Thus while a greater number of psychologists are performing a greater number of neuropsychological procedures there seems to us an uneven parallel growth between these services and the empirical foundations for them It should come to no one's surprise that increasingly aggressive attacks on the field have been leveled Despite these attacks clinical neuropsychology continues to enjoy exceptional growth within psychology and acceptance by other health practitioners insurance companies legislators judges juries and above all consumers of our services Growth without self reflection is a dangerous enterprise as is growth without directions We find it disconcerting that existing and limited self analysis has assumed that neuropsychological dysfunction is immune to the same variables that affect psychological dysfunction Some attention has been paid to the most obvious ones such as age but all others have been ignored and or misunderstood This neglect has spawned a body of knowledge replete with questionable data and unfounded conclusions Hence it is surprising that clinical neuropsychologists consider themselves to be more scientifically sound than their regular clinical counterparts
