Sriram, David Lingelbach, Tigineh Mersha, Franklyn Manu, 2020-11-16. It is now widely recognized that in regions like Africa, for economic and other reasons, the public sector has had to disengage and divest from many areas of the economy and allow private enterprise, especially scalable start-ups and new ventures, to enter and flourish if economic development and employment are to grow. There is, however, a training and education gap since entrepreneurship is rarely taught formally at African universities, and when it is, it is often approached from a Western perspective which may not be appropriate given that African environments are significantly different from most Western ones in terms of economic infrastructure and political considerations. This book allows readers to understand the African entrepreneurial context by guiding them through the principal stages in the life of a new venture and offers approaches, both Western and indigenous, that can inform their entrepreneurial actions. It concludes by examining some specialized topics including female youth and social entrepreneurship, as well as real estate and technology. Exercises throughout the book will enable readers to evaluate their motivations and preparedness for entrepreneurship and learn how to communicate a new venture's key features to potential stakeholders. By focusing on the distinctive features of entrepreneurship in the African context and taking a conversational tone, this is an informative and practical text that will be useful for students of Global Entrepreneurship and Business, as well as actual and prospective entrepreneurs in the private, non-profit, and public sectors. Entrepreneurial Women Louise

Kelly, 2014-08-11. Women are now leading companies and other enterprises in significant numbers in developing countries as well as the Western world. This set examines the specific ways in which entrepreneurial women create success and considers how the growing prevalence of female entrepreneurs will change the world. This two-volume work provides balanced and thorough coverage of women entrepreneurs in multicultural and international contexts, as well as in the Western world. Entrepreneurial Women: New Management and Leadership Models explores how women everywhere are empowering themselves socially and economically through entrepreneurship and business ownership. The contributors consider how discrimination against women in the workplace can contribute to the inspiration to become business owners in the first place and document the experiences of African American women entrepreneurs, as well as women in distinct settings such as China, Africa, rural Jamaica, and Silicon Valley. The work draws on empirical studies, data sets, case studies, and descriptions of career trajectories to portray the realities of women entrepreneurs today Readers will understand the distinctive challenges and opportunities involved with the entrepreneurship process for women owned businesses grasp how women have overcome their disadvantages in getting funding and accessing capital and learn about the unique management and leadership style of women entrepreneurs
