It is a complex process defined by a set of characteristic morphological and biochemical features that involves the active participation of affected cells in a self-destruction cascade. This programmed cell death plays a critical role in physiological functions such as cell deletion during embryonic development, balancing cell number in continuously renewing tissues, and immune system development. Additionally, a dysregulation of apoptosis is underlying in numerous pathological situations such as Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's disease, and cancer. A number of studies have pointed out an association between consumption of fruits and vegetables and certain beverages such as tea and wine, which are rich in
