Decision Making in Aviation Don Harris, 2017-07-05 Decision making pervades every aspect of life people make hundreds of decisions every day The vast majority of these are trivial and without a right or wrong answer In some respects there is also nothing extraordinary about pilot decision making It is only the setting that is different the underlying cognitive processes are just the same However it is the context and the consequences of a poor decision which serve to differentiate aeronautical decision making Decisions on the flight deck are often made with incomplete information and while under time pressure The implications for inadequate performance is much more serious than in many other professions Poor decisions are implicated in over half of all aviation accidents This volume contains key papers published over the last 25 years providing an overview of the major paradigms by which aeronautical decision making has been investigated Furthermore decision making does not occur in isolation It is a joint function of the flight tasks knowledge equipment on the flight deck and other stressors In this volume of collected papers works from leading authors in the field consider all these aspects of aeronautical decision making

Pilot's Guide to ATC David Harrison, 2008 A practical explanation to pilots of how and why ATC procedures working methods and RT phraseology is used Aimed at pilots from trainees through to experienced professionals it is written in a very practical sense with a view on the real world with real people As such it is not a lecture like reproduction of the rules but explains the meanings and reasons for ATC procedures clearances and phraseology The intention is that it will give pilots a better understanding of the environment they are operating in improve airmanship improve pilot controller understanding and consequently improve safety by giving pilots an understanding of how and why ATC use certain methods and phraseology The author is an ex air traffic controller now a commercial pilot and so is in the ideal position to explain what pilots are not taught about ATC including the ATC related issues that are useful and in some cases necessary for pilots to know Real life examples and questions from fellow pilots are used to explain the subjects in a practical method Consequently many examples are given of how to prevent incidents by including in the explanations how incorrect perceptions and misunderstandings can arise without such knowledge of ATC procedures and the issuing of clearances Subjects include IFR VFR Special VFR collision prevention operations inside and outside controlled airspace weather emergencies explanations of clearances and how responsibilities change between the controller and the pilot with certain clearances Federal Register ,2013-02 Sweet Teeth and Loose Bowels Michael S.
