

who like change, who like new stuff, who are actively looking for what it is you sell. Then you hope that the idea spreads, moving from the early adopters to the rest of the curve. After the early adopters embrace what you're selling, they are the ones who will sell it to the early majority - not you. And they will sell it poorly. (Moore talks at length about moving through the rest of the curve. I highly recommend his book.)

You must design a product that is remarkable enough to attract the early adopters - but is flexible enough and attractive enough that those adopters will have an easy time spreading the idea to the rest of the curve.
