cellular functions are executed by proteins so it is essential to investigate biological processes at the protein level Antibodies complex biomolecules with high specificity are used to recognize our protein of interest in a process known as immunophenotyping One of the routinely used methods to study cellular proteins is flow cytometry which detects cell surface or intracellular proteins at single cell resolution The other most frequent technique is the traditional immunohistochemical investigation of microscopic sections of human tissues We called authors to publish their latest data studying cancer or autoimmune diseases by immunophenotyping
