Predestination Matthew Levering,2011-05-26 Predestination has been the subject of perennial controversy among Christians although in recent years theologians have shied away from it as a divisive and unedifying topic In this book Matthew Levering argues that Christian theological reflection needs to continue to return to the topic of predestination for two reasons Firstly predestinarian doctrine is taught in the New Testament Reflecting the importance of the topic in many strands of Second Temple Judaism the New Testament authors teach predestination in a manner that explains why Christian theologians continually recur to this topic Secondly the doctrine of predestination provides a way for Christian theologians to reflect upon two fundamental affirmations of biblical revelation The first is God s love without any deficiency or crimp for each and every rational creature the second is that God from eternity brings about the purpose for which he created us and that he permits some rational creatures freely and permanently to rebel against his love When theologians reflect on these two key biblical affirmations they generally try to unite them in a logical synthesis Instead Levering argues it is necessary to allow for the truth of each side of the mystery without trying to blend the two affirmations into one Levering pairs his discussion of Scripture with ecumenically oriented discussion of the doctrine of predestination in through the ages through the figures of Origen Augustine Boethius John of Damascus Eriugena Aquinas Ockham Catherine of Siena Calvin Molina Francis de Sales Leibniz Bulgakov Barth Maritain and Balthasar He concludes with a constructive chapter regarding the future of the doctrine La Bibliotheque Des
