Statistical Capacity Building Mr. Thomas K. Morrison, 2005-11-16 IMF technical assistance provided by the Statistics Department toward assisting IMF member countries in developing the ability to provide reliable and comparable economic and financial data on a timely basis to policymakers and markets has increased more than fourfold over the past decade This assistance has proven critical in countries building their statistical capacity so as to come into line with international data standards in an increasingly globalized and electronically interconnected world Statistical Capacity Building Case Studies and Lessons Learned presents four case studies drawn from experience in three countries in transition to the market two of which were also in postconflict situations in the 1990s and early 2000s Cambodia Bosnia and Herzegovina and Ukraine Issues of setting institutional and statistical arrangements strategies and implementation are examined and lessons learned

Plant Transposable Elements Marie-Angèle Grandbastien, Josep Casacuberta, 2013-01-08 Transposable elements are short lengths of DNA with the capacity to move between different points within a genome This process can affect the function of genes at or near the insertion site The present book gives an overview of the impact of transposable elements on plant genomes and explains how to recognize and study transposable elements e g by using state of the art strategies like new generation sequencing Moreover the impact of transposable elements on plant genome structure and function is reviewed in detail and also illustrated in examples and case studies The book is intended both for readers familiar with the field and for newcomers With large scale sequencing becoming increasingly available more and more people will come across transposable element sequences in their data and this volume will hopefully help to convince them that they are not just junk DNA
