Following this broader engineering education, some additional groups of students went on to study all engineering sciences. These included some international students, some students who returned to university for "broadening-based" courses, especially in some of the older, more traditional engineering disciplines, and some students who specialized in engineering sciences. These students' professional preparation was a broad training, just as students who had one of the options for engineering took their training and specialization.

It will also create problems, administratively, for the schools and independently, because they were opened as part of the nation's long-term effort to reduce the military's employment, whereas the schools plan to operate on a permanent, or at least long-term, basis.
