Category	4	3	2	1
Introduction (Organization)	The introduction 'hooks' the audience, contains a good topic sentence, and states the supporting details of the essay.	The introduction clearly states the main topic and previews the structure of the essay, but is not particularly inviting to the reader.	The introduction states the main topic, but does not adequately preview the structure of the essay nor is it particularly inviting to the reader.	There is no clear introduction of the main topic or the structure of the essay.
Body (Organization)	Details from introduction are presented in a logical order and each topic is equally supported with supportive evidence.	Details are placed in a logical order. However, each topic has differing amounts of support- some topics have more evidence than others.	Some details are not in a logical or expected order, and this distracts the reader.	Many details are not in a logical or expected order. There is little sense that the writing is organized.
Conclusion (Organization)	The conclusion is strong and sums up the main idea and the details of the essay. This leaves the reader with a feeling that they understand what the writer is 'saying it'.	The conclusion is recognizable and sums up almost all of the essay's main points.	The conclusion is recognizable but does not sum up several main points.	There is no conclusion, the paper just ends.
