Student Name: _____

Procedure for Counting: Counting is done by a student independently

- a. Remove the jar contents, transferred to the cardboard program board and give identification. The different bean species represent the different bird species. Consider which bean type corresponds with species and record this information in the table.
- b. Take a group of beans from the jar. These beans represent individual birds from your sample area.
- c. Species richness refers to the number of different species found in a given area. Check in the species richness of your sample below (2 pt)

How species richness was calculated:

- d. Species richness refers to the number of different species found in a given area. Record in the table the species richness for each species found in your sample area. (2 pt)
- e. Dominance refers to species abundance for each species in the sample area. Relative species abundance is reported as a percentage. Dominance refers to the relative species abundance of species abundance (total number of individuals in sample) x 100 (2 pt)

Data for Sample Area 1 (2 pt)
Number of Species	Bean Type	Species Abundance	Relative Abundance
Common Beans	Bean	40	40/100
