Exploring Time And Place Through Play:

Exploring Time and Place Through Play Hilary Cooper, 2012-09-10 This book is packed with fun and exciting activities that enable the child to make sense of the world that they live in and relate it to their own experiences in order to enhance their personal and social development

Exploring Mathematics Through Play in the Early Childhood Classroom Amy Noelle Parks, 2015-04-28 This practical book provides pre and inservice teachers with an understanding of how math can be learned through play The author helps teachers to recognize the mathematical learning that occurs during play to develop strategies for mathematizing that play and to design formal lessons that make connections between mathematics and play Common Core State Standards are addressed throughout the text to demonstrate the ways in which play is critical to standards based mathematics teaching and to help teachers become more familiar with these standards Classroom examples illustrate that unlike most formal tasks play offers children opportunities to solve nonroutine problems and to demonstrate a variety of mathematical ways of thinking such as perseverance and attention to precision This book will help put play back into the early childhood classroom where it belongs Book Features Makes explicit connections to play and the Common Core State Standards in Mathematics Offers many examples of free play activities in which mathematics can be highlighted as well as formal lessons that are inspired by play Provides strategies for making assessments more playful helping teachers meet increasing demands for assessment data while also reducing child stress Includes highlight boxes with recommended resources questions for reflection key research findings vocabulary lesson plan templates and more This is one of those books that I wish I had written It is smart readable relevant and authentically focused on children From the Foreword by Elizabeth Graue Sorenson Professor of Early Childhood Education University of Wisconsin In this deceptively easy to read book Amy Parks explains two things that could make a world of difference in early childhood and elementary classrooms Mathematics isn't something in a workbook it's a fascinating part of the real world And playing in school isn't a luxury it's an essential context for learning about all sorts of things including mathematics Through vignettes of children learning mathematics as they play Parks helps teachers recognize their answerability to the moment eschewing someone else's determination of best practice in favor of what works with actual children eager to learn mathematics Rebecca New School of Education University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places Lynne Dixon, Alison Hales, 2013-12-04 A much needed and delightful book It shows how history can be taught with the meaningful experiences of each child at its centre making connections between the child the locality and community the national and global past and concepts of time Throughout the authors empower teachers to adopt their philosophy by showing them how to plan select resources and strategies and reflect on ideas and case studies Hilary Cooper Emeritus professor of history and pedagogy The University of Cumbria UK Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places puts the local environment and community at the heart of history showing how it can be used as the context for successful history teaching across the primary age range

It considers how to develop children's concepts and skills through local history how to link local national and global aspects of history and helps you develop your own historical knowledge understanding and confidence in teaching the subject Practical topics explored include Investigating children's cultural and geographical roots through fieldwork Finding and visiting local museums archives and heritage sights Choosing and using resources Using significant people events and buildings to link with national history Environmental education and sustainable development through local history Understanding the links between history and everyday life Planning and assessing history Based on the latest research and practice in the field Bringing History Alive through Local People and Places offers an exciting template of creative ideas and activities to show teachers how they can make history relevant to all children

Teaching History Creatively Hilary Cooper, 2016-11-10 The fully updated second edition of Teaching History Creatively introduces teachers to the wealth of available approaches to historical enquiry ensuring creative effective learning This book clearly sets out the processes of historical enquiry demonstrating how these are integrally linked with key criteria of creativity and helps readers to employ those features of creativity in the classroom Underpinned by theory and research it offers informed and practical support and is illustrated throughout with examples of children's work Key themes addressed include investigating sources using archives in your own research project becoming historical agents and history detectives drama for exploring events myths and legends communicating historical understanding creatively With brand new chapters from the Stone Ages to the Iron Age using prehistoric sources The withdrawal of the Romans and the conquest and settlement of Britain by the Anglo Saxons in addition to many new case studies this exciting edition puts an emphasis on accessible recent research new evidence and interpretations and encourages the creative dynamism of the study of history Teaching History Creatively provides vivid and rich examples of the creative use of sources of approaches to understanding chronology and concepts of time and of strategies to create interpretations It is an essential purchase for any teacher or educator who wishes to embed creative approaches to teaching history in their classroom

History 3-11 Hilary Cooper, 2006-11-21 Replacing the bestselling The Teaching of History in Primary Schools acclaimed author Hilary Cooper returns with this invaluable resource showing how to sustain a dynamic history curriculum in the classroom

Teaching History 11 - 18 Chris Husbands, Alison Kitson, 2010-07-16 Teaching History 11 18 is a comprehensive introduction to teaching learning and assessing history in secondary schools Drawing on cutting edge research and practice it draws together recent thinking in teaching and learning in history teaching and learning in secondary education more generally and classroom based research to provide a radical re thinking of the practices of teaching and learning about the past at the beginning of the twenty first century At the core of the book is a focus on diversity and its implications the diversity of classrooms in English schools cultural diversity and pluralism in accounts of the past and the diversity of pedagogic and communicative strategies at the disposal of teachers The book is realistic about the challenges a precarious place in the curriculum pupil disaffection bitter ideological debates about the purpose place and status of history but offers a forward looking rationale for the centrality of the past in debates about identity social cohesion and persona and social education Teaching History 11-18 Husbands, Chris,Kitson, Alison,2010-07-01 This book provides a comprehensive and radical guide to the challenges facing history and history teaching in contemporary schools History 5-11 Hilary Cooper,2012 Rev ed of History 3 11 Abingdon UK David Fulton 2006 Teaching Early Years Foundation Stage Jo Basford,Elaine Hodson,2008-07-07 The Early Years Foundation Stage EYFS came into force in September 2008 and established a framework for providing learning development and care for children from birth to five This book examines the EYFS within the context of Achieving QTS and is a core text for primary trainees covering this stage of children s learning It links the principles and commitments of the EYFS with the new standards for QTS while covering all required content The book examines the continuous nature of learning from birth to five the inter relatedness between care learning and development and the importance of sensitive transitions The Early Years Foundation Stage Ioanna Palaiologou,2009-11-25 Palaiologou has chosen essays for this collection which will stimulate critical awareness and discussion of the early years foundation stage She provides an interesting background to the politics policy and legislation which underpin and inform the EYFS This book covers policy and pedagogy assessment communication and more
