An Introduction to Population Geographies Holly R. Barcus, Keith Halfacree, 2017-09-01 An Introduction to Population Geographies provides a foundation to the incredibly diverse topical and interesting field of twenty first century population geography It establishes the substantive concerns of the subdiscipline acknowledges the sheer diversity of its approaches key concepts and theories and engages with the resulting major areas of academic debate that stem from this richness Written in an accessible style and assuming little prior knowledge of topics covered yet drawing on a wide range of diverse academic literature the book's particular originality comes from its extended definition of population geography that locates it firmly within the multiple geographies of the life course Consequently issues such as childhood and adulthood family dynamics ageing everyday mobilities morbidity and differential ability assume a prominent place alongside the classic population geography triumvirate of births migrations and deaths This broader framing of the field allows the book to address more holistically aspects of lives across space often provided little attention in current textbooks Particular note is given to how these lives are shaped through hybrid social biological and individual arenas of differential life course experience By engaging with traditional quantitative perspectives and newer qualitative insights the authors engage students from the quantitative macro scale of population to the micro individual scale Aimed at higher level undergraduate and graduate students this introductory text provides a well developed pedagogy including case studies that illustrate theory concepts and issues

The Parallel Curriculum Carol Ann Tomlinson, 2002 Given that intelligence is flexible and can be influenced by circumstance and environment education at all levels ought to be about providing environments and opportunities designed to maximize individual capacity The Parallel Curriculum represents a synthesizing of views and approaches to creating curriculum for gifted learners rather than reflecting any single view or approach The book provides a rationale for developing a new curriculum model gives a brief overview of the theoretical underpinnings of the model and aims to help practitioners envision specific application It is important to realize how narrow views of intelligence limit our growth as individuals and restrict members of diverse cultures who value intelligences that are typically not addressed in schools The Parallel Curriculum provides guidance to teachers of students in various age groups and populations as well as teachers of varied subject areas and in varied programmes contexts Theorizing the Southeast Asian City as Text Robbie B. H. Goh, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2003 Theorizing the Southeast Asian City as Text examines the ways in which culture ethnicity languages traditions governance policies and histories interplay in the creation of the urban experiences in contemporary Southeast Asian cities It focuses on the ways in which urban spatial forms are textual experiences subject to interpretative strategies and the influence of other discourses In addition it also analyzes the experiences of modernization in such cities but also in terms of the strategies of containment refurbishment and loss which this has occasioned Teaching Middle Level Social Studies Scott L. Roberts, Benjamin R. Wellenreiter, Jessica Ferreras-Stone, Stephanie L. Strachan, Karrie L. Palmer, 2022-03-01

This textbook is a comprehensive and practical guide to teaching middle level social studies Middle level students are just as capable as high school students at engaging in hands on progressive reflective activities yet pedagogical strategies designed specifically for the middle grades are often overlooked in teacher education programs This text provides both progressive and traditional teaching methods and strategies proven effective in the middle level classroom The content of this book consists of conventional chapters such as What is Social Studies and Unit and Curriculum Planning as well as unique chapters such as The Middle Level Learner Best Practices for Teaching State History and Integrating the Core Subjects in Middle Level Social Studies In addition to the unique chapters and lesson plans many additional features of the book will be useful for middle level teaching and learning These features include A list of website resources that provide links to thousands of lesson plans state and national standards and other multimedia tools that can be used in the classroom Individual collaborative and whole class activities that will help methods students develop a better understanding of the topics lessons and strategies discussed High quality lesson ideas and classroom tested teaching strategies embedded throughout the book Images of student work samples that will help students visualize the finished product that is being discussed An examination of state and national standards that will help guide methods students in their lesson planning Book Review Index , 2004 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation A

The Creative Underclass Tyler Denmead, 2019-11-08 Tyler Denmead critically examines his role as the founder of New Urban Arts a nonprofit arts program for young people of color in Providence Rhode Island and how despite its success it unintentionally contributed to Providence's urban renewal efforts gentrification and the displacement of people of color

Science Education in Canada Christine D. Tippet, Todd M. Milford, 2019-07-01 This book offers a meso level description of demographics science education and science teacher education Representing all 13 Canadian jurisdictions the book provides local insights that serve as the basis for exploring the Canadian system as a whole and function as a common starting point from which to identify causal relationships that may be associated with Canada's successes The book highlights commonalities consistencies and distinctions across the provinces and territories in a thematic analysis of the 13 jurisdiction specific chapters Although the analysis indicates a network of policy and practice issues warranting further consideration the diverse nature of Canadian science education makes simple identification of causal relationships elusive Canada has a reputation for strong science achievement However there is currently limited literature on science education in Canada at the general level or in specific areas such as Canadian science curriculum or science teacher education This book fills that gap by presenting a thorough description of science education at the provincial territorial level as well as a more holistic description of pressing issues for Canadian science education

Making Value and Career Building in the Creative Economy Melanie Fasche, 2017-03-30 This work offers a nuanced perspective based on empirical evidence of the role of talent and creativity for economic growth prosperity social and spatial inequality and precarity in creative cities by arguing that creativity and talent need to be valued and eventually rewarded to achieve sufficient conditions for individual economic success Shedding light on the recent momentum of a growing convergence of cultural and economic spheres in post industrial societies by building on a case study of contemporary visual art from interviews with commercial gallerists Written from an economic geography and historical institutional perspective while leveraging the analytic strength of the established repertoire of other social science disciplines this book will provide a fascinating read for economic geographers and other social scientists researching the creative and knowledge economy as well as arts professionals aiming to better understand the process of making value of contemporary visual art

Gentrification in Contemporary Fiction James Peacock, 2025-05-15 Focusing on literary representations of gentrification this book analyses twenty first century anglophone novels by authors from the United States Canada India the United Kingdom and Australia Literary texts so adept at revealing the experiences and emotions of individuals within communities are also important vehicles for exploring the complex relationships between individuals and the wider social economic and political forces that lead to urban transformations including gentrification These complexities are best revealed this book argues by proceeding from a forensic examination of characters domestic buildings and spaces Examining novels from a broad range of writers including Zadie Smith Jonathan Lethem Aravind Adiga Michael Chabon and Irvine Welsh this book makes a powerful case for the importance of literature in helping to understand the lived experience of gentrification Canadian Books in Print.
