Art and Belief Ema Sullivan-Bissett, Helen Bradley, Paul Noordhof, 2017-10-20 Art and Belief presents twelve new essays at the intersection of philosophy of mind and philosophy of art particularly to do with the relation between belief and truth in our experience of art Several contributors discuss the cognitive contributions artworks can make and the questions surrounding these Can authors of fiction testify to their readers If they can are they culpable for the false beliefs of their readers formed in response to their work If they cannot that is if the testimonial powers of authors of fiction are limited is there some non testimonial epistemic role that fiction can play And in any case is such a role relevant when determining the value of the work Also explored are issues concerned with the phenomenon of fictional persuasion specifically what is the nature of the attitude involved in such cases those in which we form beliefs about the real world in response to reading fiction If these attitudes are typically unstable unjustified and unreliable does this put pressure on the view that they are beliefs If these attitudes are beliefs does this put pressure on the view that all beliefs are aimed at truth The final pair of papers in the volume take different stances on the nature of aesthetic testimony and whether testimony of this kind is a legitimate source of beliefs about aesthetic properties and value Confluences John Cullen Gruesser, 2007 Confluences looks at the prospects for and the potential rewards of breaking down theoretical and disciplinary barriers that have tended to separate African American and postcolonial studies John Cullen Gruesser's study emphasizes the confluences among three major theories that have emerged in literary and cultural studies in the past twenty five years postcolonialism Henry Louis Gates Jr's Signifyin g and Paul Gilroy's black Atlantic For readers who may not be well acquainted with one or more of the three theories Gruesser provides concise introductions in the opening chapter In addition he urges those people working in postcolonial or African American literary studies to attempt to break down the boundaries that in recent years have come to isolate the two fields Gruesser then devotes a chapter to each theory examining one literary text that illustrates the value of the theoretical model a second text that extends the model in a significant way and a third text that raises one or more questions about the theory His examples are drawn from the writings of Salman Rushdie Jean Rhys V S Naipaul Walter Mosley Pauline Hopkins Toni Morrison Harry Dean Harriet Jacobs and Alice Walker Cautious not to conflate postcolonial and African American studies Gruesser encourages critics to embrace the black Atlantic's emphases on movement through space routes rather than roots and intercultural connections and to expand and where appropriate to emend Gilroy's efforts to bridge the two fields

Constructing the Adolescent Reader in Contemporary Young Adult Fiction Elisabeth Rose Gruner, 2019-05-17 This book examines the way young adult readers are constructed in a variety of contemporary young adult fictions arguing that contemporary young adult novels depict readers as agents Reading these novels suggest is neither an unalloyed good nor a dangerous ploy but rather an essential occasionally fraught by turns escapist and instrumental deeply pleasurable and highly contentious activity that has value far beyond the classroom skills or the specific content it conveys After an introductory chapter that examines the state of reading and young adult fiction today the book examines novels that depict reading in school gendered and racialized reading reading magical and religious books and reading as a means to developing civic agency These examinations reveal that books for teens depict teen readers as doers and suggest that their ability to read deeply critically and communally is crucial to the development of adolescent agency

Charles Kingsley Jonathan Conlin,Jan Marten Ivo Klaver,2020-12-28 Novelist poet Anglican priest and controversialist Charles Kingsley 1819-75 epitomizes the bustling Victorian man of faith and letters a prolific polymath as ready to break a lance with John Henry Newman over Christian doctrine as he was to preach to schoolchildren on the virtues of manly physical struggle Kingsley's The Water Babies and Westward Ho were best sellers which became classics of children's literature Kingsley has come to epitomize the Victorian age On closer inspection Kingsley is harder to categorize a socialist who was also an imperialist a Chartist revolutionary who was Queen Victoria's favourite novelist a natural theologian who popularized Darwin a priest who celebrated sex as sacrament Kingsley only appears straightforward if you consider him one piece at a time The debates he shaped remain with us today faith and sexuality economics and exploitation race and identity The aim of this book is to present the whole man to consider the public crusades for public health alongside the most private fantasies of sexual intercourse to consider the ardent imperialist alongside the Darwinist It will be of interest to all students of Victorian studies as well as of British Imperial history church history and especially the history of science

Telling Stories Steven Cohan,Linda M. Shires,2013-10-08 First Published in 2002 We are living in a time of rapid and radical social change Modes and categories inherited from the past no longer seem to fit the reality experienced by a new generation New Accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation Each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change to stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study This book introduces a theoretical framework for studying narrative fiction A narrative recounts a story a series of events in a temporal sequence

Female Rebellion in Young Adult Dystopian Fiction Sara K. Day,Miranda A. Green-Barteet,Amy L. Montz,2016-04-15 Responding to the increasingly powerful presence of dystopian literature for young adults this volume focuses on novels featuring a female protagonist who contends with societal and governmental threats at the same time that she is navigating the treacherous waters of young adulthood The contributors relate the liminal nature of the female protagonist to liminality as a unifying feature of dystopian literature literature for and about young women and cultural expectations of adolescent womanhood Divided into three sections the collection investigates cultural assumptions and expectations of adolescent women considers the various means of resistance and rebellion made available to and explored by female protagonists and examines how the adolescent female protagonist is situated with respect to the groups and environments that surround her In a series of thought provoking essays on a wide range of writers that includes Libba Bray Scott Westerfeld Tahereh Mafi Veronica Roth Marissa Meyer Ally Condie and Suzanne Collins the collection makes a convincing case for how this rebellious figure interrogates the competing constructions of adolescent womanhood in late twentieth and early twenty first century culture
