

CASE STUDY: Conifer Corp.

By Steven L. McShane, Curtin University (Australia) and University of Victoria (Canada); and David Lebeter

Conifer Corp. is a sawmill operation in Oregon that is owned by a major forest products company but operates independently of the parent company. It was built 30 years ago and completely updated with new machinery five years ago. Conifer receives raw logs from the area for cutting and planning into building-grade lumber, mostly 2-by-4 and 2-by-6 pieces of standard lengths. Higher-grade logs leave Conifer's sawmill department in finished form and are sent directly to the packaging department. The remaining 40 percent of sawmill output are cuts from lower-grade logs, requiring further work by the planning department. Page 242

Conifer has 1 general manager, 16 supervisors and support staff, and 180 unionized employees. The unionized employees are paid an hourly rate specified in the collective agreement, whereas management and support staff are paid a monthly salary. The mill is divided into six operating departments: boom, sawmill, planer, packaging, shipping, and maintenance. The sawmill, boom, and packaging departments operate a morning shift starting at 6:00 a.m. and an afternoon shift starting at 2:00 p.m. Employees in these departments rotate shifts every two weeks. The planer and shipping departments operate only morning shifts. Maintenance employees work the night shift (starting at 10:00 p.m.).

Each department, except for packaging, has a supervisor on every work shift. The planer supervisor is responsible for the packaging department on the morning shift, and the sawmill supervisor is responsible for the packaging department on the afternoon shift. However, the packaging operation is housed in a separate building from the other departments, so supervisors seldom visit the packaging department. This is particularly true for the afternoon shift, because the sawmill supervisor is the furthest distance from

Curriculum Design and Classroom Management: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2015-04-30 Educational pedagogy is a diverse field of study one that all educators should be aware of and fluent in so that their classrooms may succeed Curriculum Design and Classroom Management Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications presents cutting edge research on the development and implementation of various tools used to maintain the learning environment and present information to pupils as effectively as possible In addition to educators and students of education this multi volume reference is intended for educational theorists administrators and industry professionals at all levels Online Course Management: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2018-03-02 The rapid growth in online and virtual learning opportunities has created culturally diverse classes and corporate training sessions Instruction for these learning opportunities must adjust to meet participant needs Online Course Management Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications is a comprehensive reference source for the latest scholarly material on the trends techniques and management of online and distance learning environments and examines the benefits and challenges of these developments Highlighting a range of pertinent topics such as blended learning social presence and educational online games this multi volume book is ideally designed for administrators developers instructors staff technical support and students actively involved in teaching in online learning environments Molecular Epidemiology Timothy R. Rebbeck, Christine B. Ambrosone, Peter G. Shields, 2016-04-19 This volume comprises the investigation of factors that may predict the response to treatment outcome and survival by exploring design considerations in molecular epidemiology including case only family based approaches for evaluation of genetic susceptibility to exposure and addiction pharmacogenetics incorporation of biomarkers in clinical trials Driving Innovation and Business Success in the Digital Economy Oncioiu, Ionica, 2016-12-12 Advancements in the digital world are bringing about rapid waves of change in organizational management As such it is increasingly imperative to discover ways for businesses to adapt to changes in the markets and seize various digital market opportunities Driving Innovation and Business Success in the Digital Economy is an essential reference source for the latest research on the impact of digital computing and emerging technological innovations in the realm of business success Featuring extensive coverage across a range of relevant perspectives and topics such as IT outsourcing sustainable development and online advertising this publication is ideally designed for researchers professionals and students seeking current research on the complex scope of the new economy The Crosslinguistic Study of Language Acquisition Dan Isaac Slobin, 2014-03-05 In this final volume in the series the contributors attempt to expand the contexts in which child language has been examined crosslinguistically The chapters build on themes that have been touched on anticipated and promised in earlier volumes in the series The study of child language has been situated in the disciplines of psychology and linguistics and has been most responsive to dominant issues in those fields such as nativism and learning comprehension and production errors input and universals of morphology and syntax The context has primarily been that of the individual child interacting with a parent and deciphering the linguistic code The code has been generally treated in these volumes as a system of morphology and syntax with little attention to phonology and prosody Attention has been paid occasionally to the facts that the child is acquiring language in a sociocultural setting and that language is used in contexts of semantic and pragmatic communication In addition there has been a degree of attention paid to the interactions between language and cognition in the process of development As for individual differences between children they have been discussed in those studies where they could not be avoided but such variation has rarely been the focus of systematic attention Differences between individual languages have been of great interest but these differences have not often been placed in a framework of systematic typological variation And although languages and their grammars change over time the focus of attention on the individual child learner has generally led to neglect of explanatory principles that are best found on the level of linguistic diachrony rather than the level of innate ideas or patterns of learning and cognition in the individual child The chapter authors seek to explore these neglected contexts in more depth
