This book is the only one of its kind with more than 200 therapeutic activities specifically designed for working with children and teenagers within the healthcare system. It provides evidence-based age appropriate activities for interventions that promote coping. The activities target topics such as separation anxiety, self-esteem issues, body image, death, isolation, and pain. Mental health practitioners will appreciate its cookbook format with quickly read and implemented activities.

Teaching Social Studies in the Early Childhood Classroom Jean Kirshner, Jenny Pettit, 2025-01-23. This textbook develops early childhood teachers' capacity to effectively instruct democratic principles to our youngest citizens. As our world experiences political polarization, pandemics, heightened racial tension, and the evolving awareness of gender and LGBTQ issues, this textbook addresses those topics as they show up in the early childhood classroom, offering research-informed practical guidance for pre and in-service teachers. The book is organized around 12 themes, 10 of which are based on the National Council for Social Studies (NCSS) themes, in addition to the anti-racist, anti-bias curriculum and gender-expansive principles from the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), closely following social studies content standards from across the United States. The themes covered are culture and cultural diversity, history, geography, identity, gender roles and gender identity, institutions, power and authority, economics, science and technology, global citizenship, and civic ideals and practice. Throughout each chapter, you will come to know 5 early childhood classrooms and including profiles of the teachers, students, and communities. These five spaces represent a variety of early childhood teachers, different age groups of students, and diverse communities and show how the lesson learned in each chapter can be applied in classroom settings. This book provides developmentally appropriate ways to teach relevant and current social studies content to our very youngest learners, emphasizing the fact that these very children will grow to be the next stewards of our global community.

Helping Children Become the Heroes of their Stories Amanda Seyderhelm, 2022-09-23. Whether it's the anxiety of social isolation, the loss of routine, or a breakdown in formal educational support, the COVID-19 pandemic has affected children in countless ways. Teachers, therapists, and parents frequently find themselves ill-equipped to help children struggling with the difficult feelings that these situations and others like them give rise to. This essential guide provides a therapeutic toolkit to enable children to tell their stories and to regain some control over their mental health and wellbeing. The toolkit introduces a therapeutic story template alongside guided support and examples focusing on three therapeutic skill sets active listening reflection and handling questions Designed for use with children both individually and in class groups the storytelling toolkit will enable children to see themselves as the hero of their own story and life and to reinstate a sense of optimism and self empowerment in the face of the pandemic challenge This resource provides a practical toolkit which can be used both inside and outside the classroom to help children to tell their lockdown stories It will be valuable reading for teachers SENCOs therapists mental health leads and parents
