the reader will learn that all the basic functions that arise in calculus such as powers and fractional powers exponentials and logs trigonometric functions and their inverses as well as many new functions that the reader will meet are naturally defined for complex arguments Furthermore this expanded setting leads to a much richer understanding of such functions than one could glean by merely considering them in the real domain For example understanding the exponential function in the complex domain via its differential equation provides a clean path to Euler's formula and hence to a self contained treatment of the trigonometric functions Complex analysis developed in partnership with Fourier analysis differential equations and geometrical techniques leads to the development of a cornucopia of functions of use in number theory wave motion conformal mapping and other mathematical phenomena which the reader can learn about from material presented here This book could serve for either a one semester course or a two semester course in complex analysis for beginning graduate students or for well prepared undergraduates whose background includes multivariable calculus linear algebra and advanced calculus
