Mathematical Tasks in Classrooms Around the World ,2010-01-01 Mathematical tasks have long been recognized as crucial mediators between mathematical content and the mathematics learner For many people the mathematics classroom is defined by the type of tasks one finds there and this is appropriate Mathematical tasks are the embodiment of the curricular pretext that brings each particular set of individuals together in every mathematics classroom In other contexts individuals come together to engage in musical performances or dramatic performances The performances of the mathematics classroom are largely the performance of mathematical tasks and if we are to understand and facilitate the learning that is the purpose of such settings then we must understand the nature of the performances that we find there The classroom performance of a task is ultimately a unique synthesis of task teacher students and situation Of particular interest are differences in the function of mathematically similar tasks when employed by different teachers in different classrooms for different instructional purposes with different students By making comparison possible between the classroom use of mathematical tasks in different classrooms around the world the analyses reported in this book reveal the profound differences in how each teacher utilises mathematical tasks in partnership with their students to create a distinctive form of mathematical activity The Learner's Perspective Study aims to juxtapose the observable practices of the classroom and the meanings attributed to those practices by classroom participants The LPS research design documents sequences of at least ten lessons using three video cameras supplemented by the reconstructive accounts of classroom participants obtained in post lesson video stimulated interviews and by test and questionnaire data and copies of student written material In each participating country data generation focuses on the classrooms of three teachers identified by the local mathematics education community as competent and situated in demographically different school communities within the one major city The large body of complex data supports both the characterisation of practice in the classrooms of competent teachers and the development of theory     Algebra 1, 2003     Differentiating Instruction in Algebra 1 Kelli Jurek, 2021-09-03 Teachers often have too little time to prepare differentiated lessons to meet the needs of all students Differentiating Instruction in Algebra 1 provides ready to use resources for Algebra 1 students The book is divided into four units introduction to functions and relationships systems of linear equations exponent rules and exponential functions and quadratic functions Each unit includes big ideas essential questions the Common Core State Standards addressed within that section pretests learning targets varied activities and answer keys The activities offer choices to students or three levels of practice based on student skill level Differentiating Instruction in Algebra 1 is just the resource math teachers need to provide exciting and challenging algebra activities for all students Grades 7-10     Algebra 1

Groenewald, Gavin C.G. Fraser, Ajuruchukwu Obi, Aad van Tilburg, 2012-03-10 This book assesses the institutional technical and market constraints as well as opportunities for smallholders notably emerging farmers in disadvantaged areas such as the former homelands of South Africa Emerging farmers are previously disadvantaged black people who started or will start their business with the support of special government programs Public support programs have been developed as part of the Black Economic Empowerment strategy of the South African government These programs aim to improve the performance of emerging farmers This requires first and foremost upgrading the emerging farmers skills by providing access to knowledge about agricultural and entrepreneurial practices To become or to remain good farmers they also need access to suitable agricultural land and sufficient water for irrigation and for feeding their cattle Finally for emerging farmers to be engaged in viable farming operations various factors need to be in place such as marketing and service institutions to give credit for agricultural inputs and investments input markets for farm machinery farm implements fertilizers and quality seeds and accessible output markets for their end products This book develops a policy framework and potential institutional responses to unlock the relevant markets for smallholders     Technical Abstract Bulletin ,     Congressional Record United States.

Congress,1925     Psychological Factors in Physical Education and Sport - Volume IV Manuel Gómez-López,Carla Maria Chicau Costa Borrego,Marianna Alesi,David Manzano Sánchez,2025-02-19 The regular practice of physical activity has a positive influence on the physical and psychological health of participants In a context such as sports or physical education classes knowledge and manipulation of psychological variables such as attention self confidence stress control anxiety motivation cohesion self control or emotional self regulation moods and interpersonal skills can influence sports commitment and sports or academic performance Furthermore it has also been confirmed that a highly competitive context under a motivational climate involving the ego can generate feelings of fear of failure and the appearance of feelings of shame causing in athletes and students some degree of insecurity anxiety or stress and avoidance behaviors which will negatively affect the well being interpersonal behavior and performance Therefore physical and psychological well being depends on the social environments in which physical activity and sport are practiced and therefore on the significant agents in the environment This Research Topic would aim to collect the most recent research on factors influencing physical and psychological well being and adherence to physical activity in the context of sports and physical education classes     Use of Services for Family Planning and Infertility, United States, 1982 Gerry E. Hendershot,Marjorie C. Horn,William D.

Mosher,1988 The 1982 statistics on the use of family planning and infertility services presented in this report are preliminary results from Cycle III of the National Survey of Family Growth NSFG conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics Data were collected through personal interviews with a multistage area probability sample of 7969 women aged 15-44 A detailed series of questions was asked to obtain relatively complete estimates of the extent and type of family planning services received Statistics on family planning services are limited to women who were able to conceive 3 years before the interview date Overall 79% of currently married nonsterile women reported using some type of family planning service during the previous 3 years There were no statistically significant differences between white 79% black 75% or Hispanic 77% wives or between the 2 income groups The 1982 survey questions were more comprehensive than those of earlier cycles of the survey The annual rate of visits for family planning services in 1982 was 1077 visits 1000 women Teenagers had the highest annual visit rate 1581 1000 of any age group for all sources of family planning services combined Visit rates declined sharply with age from 1447 at ages 15-24 to 479 at ages 35-44 Similar declines with age also were found in the visit rates for white and black women separately Nevertheless the annual visit rate for black women 1334 1000 was significantly higher than that for white women 1033 The highest overall visit rate was for black women 15-19 years of age 1867 1000 Nearly 2/3 of all family planning visits were to private medical sources Teenagers of all races had higher family planning service visit rates to clinics than to private medical sources as did black women age 15-24 White women age 20 and older had higher visit rates to private medical services than to clinics Never married women had higher visit rates to clinics than currently or formerly married women Data were also collected in 1982 on use of medical services for infertility by women who had difficulty in conceiving or carrying a pregnancy to term About 1 million ever married women had 1 or more infertility visits in the 12 months before the interview During the 3 years before interview about 1.9 million women had infertility visits For all ever married women as well as for white and black women separately infertility services were more likely to be secured from private medical sources than from clinics The survey design reliability of the estimates and the terms used are explained in the technical notes
