Condition or Process? Researching Race in Education Adrienne D. Dixon,Gloria J. Ladson-Billings,Cecilia E. Suarez,William T. Trent,James D. Anderson,2021-01-18 The question of why we need to think about how we research race demands a conceptualization of race that captures both its social construction and its temporal evolution We need both an understanding of race and clarity about how we talk about it in our design and conduct of research and in how we interpret and apply it in our findings As a field we can use research on race and racism in education to help construct social change Our purpose with this volume is to underscore the persistence of the discriminatory actions processes and the normalization of the use of race and class conditions to justify the existing and growing disparity between the quality of life and opportunity for middle class and more affluent Whites and that for people of color and people of color who live in poverty As editors of this volume we wonder what more we could learn and understand about the process and condition of race if we dare to ask bold questions about race and racism and commit to methods and analyses that respect the experiences and knowledges of our research participants and partners     The Educator's Guide to Texas School Law Jim Walsh, Frank Kemerer, Laurie Maniotis,2014-09-15 Much has changed in the area of school law since the first edition of The Educator's Guide was published in 1986 Successive editions grew incrementally longer to keep abreast of legal developments In this new eighth edition the authors have streamlined the discussion by pruning older material and weaving in new developments The result is an authoritative source on all major dimensions of Texas school law that is both well integrated and easy to read Intended for Texas school personnel school board members interested attorneys and taxpayers the eighth edition explains what the law is and what the implications are for effective school operations It is designed to help professional educators avoid expensive and time consuming lawsuits by taking effective preventive action It is an especially valuable resource for school law courses
