Mutations & Genetic Variation

Mutations: How Changes in DNA Affect Life

DNA holds the instructions for building living things. But sometimes, small changes happen to DNA. These changes are called mutations. Some mutations have no effect at all. Others can cause changes to proteins and things - for better, worse, or not at all.

What Causes Mutations?

Mutations can happen for several reasons:

- Mistakes during DNA replication (when a cell copies its DNA)
- Environmental factors, like UV radiation, chemicals, or viruses
- Spontaneous changes that happen naturally over time

Mutations can happen in any part of the DNA sequence.

Some affect just one base (called a point mutation), while others can insert or delete sections of DNA (insertion or deletion mutations).

Types of Mutations

- Substitution (Point Mutation): One base is swapped for another. Example: A-T becomes G-T.
- Insertion: One or more bases are added to the DNA sequence. Example: A new base slips into the middle of the sequence.
- Deletion: One or more bases are removed. Example: A missing base shifts the reading frame.

Some mutations change the proteins made by a gene. Others don't affect the protein at all, because of the redundancy in the genetic code.
