I asked my students to research people who made a difference by helping others. I then selected this report about one person who volunteered.

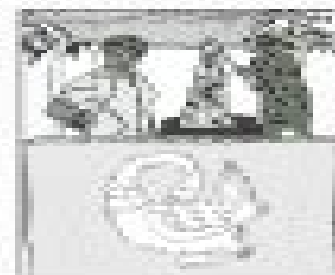

Handcrafted Hope

by David

Benji Adams and Carlos Johnson worked as volunteers in Ghana, West Africa. Benji and Carlos wanted to help the West African women provide better lives for themselves and for their children. In 2000, these two men performed an organization called Global Mission. The purpose of Global Mission is to help the women of Ghana sell and export handcrafted products. In other words, Global Mission helps women open businesses to help provide them with a better life and hope. The Ghana women are also given assistance in selling their goods to people and places around the world. The men from Ghana are part of the Global Mission organization. They are providing their knowledge to help the women.

All of the products made and sold by the Ghana women are handcrafted and handmade. Benji and Carlos help the women by giving them the tools and materials they need to make their products. Although the products are made by hand, they are made in a factory or shop.

One handcrafted product made by the Ghana women are beaded necklaces. The beads are made from recycled bottles, glass, and other glass. The color of the beads is determined by the color of the glass used. The glass is melted, placed in a mold, and then it is cooled. The beads are then used to make necklaces. In the beaded necklaces, the beads are used to make a chain. The beads are then used to make a necklace. The beads are then used to make a necklace.
