English Home Language Paper1 November 2013 Memo:

Reconceptualizing English Education in a Multilingual Society Isabel Pefianco Martin, 2018-03-01 This book brings together chapters that describe, investigate and analyze the place of English in education in multilingual Philippines. Unlike most studies on languages in education which take a neutral de-contextualized stance, this volume takes a pluricentric view of the English language by positioning it in relation to its varieties as well as to other languages in the country. Because of the changing realities of English in the Philippines, traditional assumptions about the language as monolithic and unchanging as well as about how it should be taught and learned need to be revisited and re-conceptualized. Integration, Identity and Language Maintenance in Young Immigrants Ludmila Isurin, Claudia Maria Riehl, 2017-04-12 The volume presents a selection of contributions related to integration, adaptation, language attitudes and language change among young Russian speaking immigrants in Germany. At the turn of the century, Germany which defined itself as a mono-ethnic and mono-racial society has become a country integrating various immigrant groups. Among those there are three different types of Russian immigrants: Russian Germans, Russian Jews and ethnic Russians; all three often perceived as Russians by the host country. The three groups have the same linguistic background but a different ethnicity known as nationality, a separate entry in Russian official documents. This defined the immigration paths and the subsequent integration into German society where each group strives to position itself in relation to two other groups in the same migrant space. The book discusses the complexities of belonging and self-other assignment to groups as well as the attitude to language maintenance among young Russian speaking immigrants.

Regulating Information Asymmetry in the Residential Real Estate Market Devin Lin, 2017-07-06 This book conducts a detailed examination of the current form of the Hong Kong residential property regulatory system, the 2013 Residential Properties Firsthand Sales Ordinance Cap 621. The author sheds light on how the new legislation promotes a number of values including information symmetry, consumer protection, the free market and business efficacy. It provides a detailed account of how the regulatory mechanism has evolved over the past three decades to catch unconscionable sales tactics such as selective information and/or misrepresentation of location, size, completion date and past transactions and monitor sales practices in order to protect the interests of stakeholders in this ever-changing first-hand residential property market. This book breaks down this complicated subject matter by focusing a number of chapters each on a specific attribute of the residential property on sale. It then examines the various channels through which the information is communicated to the prospective buyer and discusses misrepresentation of the key information in sales of residential properties as criminal liability. The tension between consumer's rights on one hand and the pursuit of free market principles on the other is but one example of the conflicting values thoroughly discussed in the book. Others include superstition vs. modernization and clarity vs. flexibility. Aimed at those with an interest in consumer protection and transparency-orientated legislation in commercialized real estate transactions, this book seeks to provide an in-depth discussion of the latest trends and directions of travel. The Welsh Language Commissioner in Context Diarmait Mac Golla Chríost, 2016-07-20 it is the first book on the subject much of the research data provides a unique insight to the development of government policy and is exclusive to this book several of the research results are quite striking and will be of great interest to academics and policy actors alike Censorium

William Mazzarella, 2013-02-25 In the world of globalized media provocative images trigger culture wars between traditionalists and cosmopolitans between censors and defenders of free expression But are images censored because of what they mean what they do or what they might become And must audiences be protected because of what they understand what they feel or what they might imagine At the intersection of anthropology media studies and critical theory Censorium is a pathbreaking analysis of Indian film censorship The book encompasses two moments of moral panic the consolidation of the cinema in the 1910s and 1920s and the global avalanche of images unleashed by liberalization since the early 1990s Exploring breaks and continuities in film censorship across colonial and postcolonial moments William Mazzarella argues that the censors obsessive focus on the unacceptable content of certain images and the unruly behavior of particular audiences displaces a problem that they constantly confront yet cannot directly acknowledge the volatile relation between mass affect and collective meaning Grounded in a close analysis of cinema regulation in the world's largest democracy Censorium ultimately brings light to the elusive foundations of political and cultural sovereignty in mass mediated societies

The Common European Sales Law in Context Gerhard Dannemann, Stefan Vogenauer, 2013-03-21 The recently proposed Common European Sales Law is intended to overcome differences between national contract laws 19 chapters co authored by British and German scholars investigate for the first time how the projected CESL would interact with various aspects of English and German law Official Report of the Debates of the House of Commons Canada.
