

SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the next questions.

TEXT A

- Questions that the photo-fan-winning Springbok captain Bheke Mkhize answered – came partly unexpected – in his inspirational autobiography Rise.
 - South African rugby player Bheke Mkhize was taken as inspiration as and of the prize. Bheke the Black rose is South Africa's rugby team to more than 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Mkhize's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
 - Here are questions excerpt answered from Mkhize's autobiography, Rise.
1. Write over the person that set him on the path to glory?
1. Mkhize makes no bones about it: "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Mkhize explains, talking about his grandmother Nkomo, who brought him up in the township of Dordos in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. An remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in his toughest of times. She would never go without food herself to ensure Mkhize had enough to stave off his mother's hunger. She really did make great but will always be in his heart.
1. What was his first sporting triumph?
1. Mkhize began playing soccer when he was and loved playing goals, shooting himself above in the hard, compressed earth of a makeshift pitch, guarding goals made of bricks. He and his team mates would share a goal of place of the week (that's about 25 points or 30 points between them) when they won a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy pieces of vegetables – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their trophies. As often as not, though, he realised, it would be and with a trophy, but abstaining for breaking a ribbon.
1. What most attracted him to rugby?
1. A basketball? A trumpet? No, what he wanted was to play rugby. He was a year-old when he was watching the national South African soccer team Dordos off South Africa's first home and foreign pre-match challenge, the Mkhize in the 2001 World Cup. "To me, it was just another well-dressed version of shooting, high-kicking and eye-rolling, and it's perfect with my friends in the day, and performed for my dad when he came home from work every evening," realised Mkhize.

TEXT B: The moment that changed his life

1. Mkhize recalled how he felt as he was about to meet different, more experienced players as he got increasingly involved in his training and period working with other players in the township. "I suddenly ended up surrounded from them, who only knew two real options (job or sports or study)," he reflected. "It was training session for a local rugby team collective African Bantam, currently a shooting, anything, but experienced coach called Ben (Benjamin), proved an inspiring. "I finished that session exhausted, injured and bleeding, but I walked home on a machine. I was the most awesome thing I've ever done. From that moment on, I never looked back, and never looked another player's way again," Mkhize remembered.

TEXT C: His first team?

1. After Mkhize moved to a life-changing primary to attend Day High School in Port Elizabeth, he walked to rugby. Springboks came to their team, headed by Sir John Blyden. "He was my hero, not just because I was almost like him, but because of the way he played. He was everywhere, always there, but flying as he threw himself into tackles, slipped out socks and ran the hard yards in the tight situations," he remembered. He was his only really serious role player for his school, but he never showed a pen and a piece of paper to his coach, who told him not to write and had got the signature that in this day, sometimes of the school possession. "If you'd told me then that one day School would be not just my team mate but also my friend, I'd have thought you'd lost your mind," realised Mkhize.
