QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the next questions.

TEXT A

- Questions that the photo-fan-winning Springbok captain Bheke Mkhize answered – came partly unexpected – in his inspirational autobiography Rise.
 - South African rugby player Bheke Mkhize proves to be an inspiration in and of his own right. Before the Black star is South Africa's rugby team to wear their 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Mkhize's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
 - Here are questions we put to Mkhize from Bheke's autobiography, Rise.
1. Write over the person that set him on the path to glory?
1. Mkhize makes no bones about it: "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Mkhize explains, talking about his grandmother Nkomo, who brought him up in the township of Dordrecht in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. An remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in his toughest of times. She would never go without food herself to ensure Mkhize had enough to stave off his mother's hunger. She really did make sure that he was always full in his heart.
1. What was his first sporting triumph?
1. Mkhize began playing soccer when he was five and loved playing goals, shooting himself above in the hard, compressed earth of a makeshift pitch, guarding goals made of bricks. He and his team mates would share a goal of place of their yards (that's about 25 yards or 30 yards between them) when they set a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy pies of vegetables – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their trophies. As often as not, though, he realised, it would be and with a trophy, but achieving the feeling of a winner.
1. What most attracted him to rugby?
1. A schoolboy? It is a happy one! No, when he was five, when he was four-year-old he was watching the national football team arrive from Dordrecht to play a performance their hometown famous pre-match challenge, the Mkhize is the 200th World Cup. "To me, it was just another well about wishes of cheering, high-jumping and eye-rolling, and it's perfect with my friends in the day, and performed for my dad when he came home from work every evening," realised Mkhize.

12. What was the moment that changed his life?

1. Mkhize realised that he was not so easily won over by different, more traditional games as he was by the knowledge involved in playing and passing with other boys in the township. "I realised that I was not so interested from them, but only from the real games (the sports) of the," he reflected. "It was during a session for a local rugby team, collective African Bantam, summer to a shooting, nothing, but experienced coach called him (Mkhize), proved an inspiration. "I thought that session exhausted, tired and bleeding, but I walked home on a machine. I was the most handsome thing I ever done. From that moment on, I never looked back, and never looked another way again," Mkhize concluded.

13. What was his first team?

1. After Mkhize moved to a life-changing primary to attend Day High School in Port Elizabeth, he realised he really, Springbok came to them there, headed by Sir John Burger. "He was my hero, not just because I was almost like him, but because of the way he played. He was everywhere, always had his hand flying as he threw himself into tackles, showed his skills and on the field, took in the right situation," he remembered. He was his only really serious role for Burger for his school, but he realised that was a piece of paper in his hand, which he was to learn and hard to get the situation that in this day, sometimes of his school possessions. "If you'd told me then that one day I would be not just my team mate but also my friend, I'd have thought you'd lost your mind," realised Mkhize.
