Introduction

The use of language in interpersonal communication has assisted humanity in evolving into intelligent creatures. Man is motivated to communicate through social, practical, or physical needs which others can appreciably meet. Effective communication skills, theories, and concepts are critical in establishing and sustaining good interpersonal communication. It is especially important to apply these skills when resolving conflicts in the academic or work environment. While conflict impedes communication, it is enhanced through active listening, considering the message's recipient and evaluating its resultant psychological toll.

Interpersonal Communication

Conflict at work is inevitable due to the various moving parts dedicated to running a business smoothly. As a statistical analyst, my employer is often tasked with handling large amounts of sensitive data and processing them into intelligible data. I am assigned a significant portion of that work based on official certification recognized by the national board of statisticians. However, this certification proved insufficient for my employer, who insisted on re-certification according to the company's standards. The suggestion to re-certify involved discontinuation of work which was crucial in supplying funds targeted at paying fees for the statistics course. Moreover, confirmation with authorities confirmed the validity of my papers, leading me to speculate the employer intends to finagle funds from workers for unnecessary certification.

Communication theories delineate the different frameworks utilized in transferring and decoding information from sender to recipient. The psychological theory of communication assigns importance to the emotions and thoughts of both parties (Adler et al., 2018). Feedback and reactions are also heavily assessed in addition to the flow of information to the recipient. Authors Adler et al. use emotional intelligence to define the sensitivity and ability to manage one's feelings (2018). This ability varies from
