Brand Islam Faegheh Shirazi, 2016-08-02 From food products to fashions and cosmetics to children s toys a wide range of commodities today are being marketed as halal permitted lawful or Islamic to Muslim consumers both in the West and in Muslim majority nations However many of these products are not authentically Islamic or halal and their producers have not necessarily created them to honor religious practice or sentiment Instead most halal commodities are profit driven and they exploit the rise of a new Islamic economic paradigm Brand Islam as a clever marketing tool Brand Islam investigates the rise of this highly lucrative marketing strategy and the resulting growth in consumer loyalty to goods and services identified as Islamic Faegheh Shirazi explores the reasons why consumers buy Islam branded products including conspicuous piety or a longing to identify with a larger Muslim community especially for those Muslims who live in Western countries and how this phenomenon is affecting the religious cultural and economic lives of Muslim consumers She demonstrates that Brand Islam has actually enabled a new type of global networking joining product and service sectors together in a huge conglomerate that some are referring to as the Interland A timely and original contribution to Muslim cultural studies Brand Islam reveals how and why the growth of consumerism global communications and the Westernization of many Islamic countries are all driving the commercialization of Islam South Asian Racialization and Belonging after 9/11 Aparajita De, 2016-05-26 This collection of essays interrogates literary and cultural narratives in the contexts of the incidents following 9 11 The collected essays underscore the new and re emerging racial political and socio cultural discourse on identity related to terrorism and identity politics Specifically the collection examines South Asian American identities to understand culture policy making and the implicit gendered racialization sexualization and socio economic classification of minority identities within the discourse of globalization The essays included here relocate the discourse of race and cultural studies to an examination of transnational labor diasporas reopen debate on critical constructions of U S racial and cultural formations and question the reconfiguration of gendered and sexualized discourses of the South Asian diaspora within the context of national security and terrorism This book provides a multifaceted account of South Asian racialization and belonging by drawing from disciplines across the humanities and the social sciences The scholars included here employ methods of ethnographic studies as well as literary culture film and feminist analysis to examine a wide range of South Asian cultural sites novels short stories cultural texts documentaries and sports The rich intellectual theoretical methodological and narrative tapestry of South Asians that emerges from this inquiry enables us to trace new patterns of South Asian cultural consumption post 9 11 as well as expand notions and histories of terror This volume makes an important contribution to renewing scholarship in the key areas of representations of race labor diaspora class and culture while implicating that there needs to be a simultaneous and critical dialogue on the scope and reconnections within postcolonial studies Muslim Writing, Writing Muslimness in Europe Carmen Zamorano Llena, Billy Gray, Carolina León Vegas, Carles Magrinyà Badiella, 2025-09-25 Throughout the first two decades of the twenty first century the so called Muslim question has intermittently though persistently taken centre stage in Western media and political discourses In terms of culture within the European context there is also a substantial body of literature that has engaged with Western anxieties projected onto the Muslim Other and in particular the Muslim migrant Other Literary criticism of Muslim writing and writing about Muslims in Europe has often highlighted the need to offer a more nuanced articulation of Muslim identity that contributes to challenging such othering practices Critical studies on Muslim writing produced over the last two decades have predominantly focused on contemporary literature and the novel in particular and they have often centred on specific linguistic and national frameworks This collection of essays adds complexity to existing analyses of contemporary Muslim writing and writing about Muslims and Islam in the European context by emphasizing the comparative perspective of writings produced in different epochs and different linguistic and cultural contexts Drawing on transcultural and world literature perspectives Muslim writing is redefined so as to incorporate genres other than the novel and critical approaches that expand on disciplinary redefinitions of literature and literary studies The thematic focus and the rigorous in depth analysis of the different case studies will make this collection relevant to students and academics within the fields of literary and cultural studies sociology and anthropology as well as to those in European studies and global studies

Muslim Identity Politics Khadijah Elshayyal, 2018-02-28 The surge in divisive and far right politics and growing Islamophobia in Britain pose new challenges for Muslim advocacy organisations British Muslim activism has taken centre stage in the public sphere as a result Yet for over fifty years Muslim advocacy groups have worked to preserve religious identity lobby the state and provide concerted responses to the political establishment This is the first book to chart critically the national and global factors influencing the political mobilisation of British Muslim activists as Muslims Khadijah Elshayyal traces the changes of thought direction and method within Muslim identity politics after 1960 noting key organisations and turning points such as the Rushdie Affair the 9 11 attacks the 7 7 bombings and the current conflict in Syria The book argues that the Rushdie Affair prompted new debate around the subject of freedom of expression which has continued to be a point of contention ever since Providing a history of the interaction between Muslim advocacy groups and the state and the impact of state policy on Muslim communities Muslims Identity Politics shows that that Muslim citizens continue to experience an equality gap and recommends where transformation and progress can be made Based on primary sources and in depth interviews this book is a vital resource for government officials policy makers and researchers interested in multiculturalism Islamophobia and security issues in Britain
