Conversations of the Mind Rebecca William Mlynarczyk, 2013-10-18 Asking students to write journals that reflect on their learning has become a widespread pedagogical practice in recent years However the scholarly literature does not address certain key questions about how journal writing aids learning Is there something inherent in journal writing that encourages students to write reflectively What psycholinguistic or cognitive factors help to explain the power of journal writing Why do some students use journals to write prolifically and creatively while others limit their responses to summarizing the assigned course reading Why do teachers find some journal entries so much more engaging than others How do teachers ways of responding to journals affect their students development as writers and thinkers This book addresses such questions through a careful analysis of the journal writing of the students in the author s ESL classes at a large urban college It contains detailed case studies of five culturally and linguistically diverse students with widely differing responses to journal writing To teachers of composition for both first and second language students and to teachers of graduate courses in education and qualitative research this book offers a contextualized description of journal writings as a complex social activity By emphasizing the need for educators to reexamine their pedagogy and to learn from their students Conversations of the Mind is an indispensable contribution to the emerging literature of teacher research and reflective practice Just RISE UP!

Sarah Francis Martin, InScribed, 2014-10-14 Sarah remembers the exact moment when the relationship between her faith and her entire life came into clear focus Sitting in her favorite red chair with a comfy blanket and a cup of hot tea she snuggled in with her Bible and a new book The book was huge several hundred pages long and yet it didn t intimidate her Written by the beloved Chuck Colson How Now Shall We Live focused the lens of Sarah s life and spelled out a segregation that she had unknowingly been living with a segregation between her faith and the rest of her life She has since come to understand that The Lord designed each and every one of us uniquely and put a dream in our heart that is attached to His agenda for this world Many of us have felt the stirring in our heart to make a difference with our life yet we don t always know how The key
