Disposable Battery Safety

- Improper use of batteries may result in battery fluid leakage, overheating, or explosion. Risk of explosion if batteries are replaced by an incorrect type. Use and replace only with correct size and type of batteries. Released battery fluid is corrosive and may be toxic. It can cause skin and eye burns, and is harmful if swallowed. To reduce the risk of injury:
 - Keep batteries out of reach of children.
 - Do not heat, open, puncture, incinerate, or dispose of batteries in fire.
 - Use only alkaline (not rechargeable) batteries, type AA (LR6).
 - Do not mix new and old batteries or batteries of different types.
 - Do not allow metal objects to touch the battery terminals on the device; they can become hot and cause burns.
 - Remove the batteries if they are soon out or before storing your controller for an extended period of time. Do not leave batteries in the AA battery pack when it is not installed in the controller.
 - If a battery leaks, remove all batteries, taking care to keep the leaked fluid from touching your skin or clothes. If fluid from the battery comes into contact with skin or clothes, flush skin with water immediately. Before inserting new batteries, thoroughly clean the battery compartment with a damp paper towel, or follow the battery manufacturer's recommendations for cleanup.
 - Dispose of batteries in accordance with local and national disposal regulations (if any). Insert batteries according to the instructions in this manual.

IMPORTANT HEALTH WARNINGS ABOUT PLAYING VIDEO GAMESPhotosensitive Seizures

- A very small number of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have epilepsy or seizures or who are taking anti-epileptic drugs may experience these "photosensitive epileptic seizures" while watching video games. These seizures may be caused by flashing lights or patterns, or by other visual stimuli, such as rapid motion, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or loss of consciousness. If they are soon out or before storing your controller for an extended period of time. Do not leave batteries in the AA battery pack when it is not installed in the controller.
- If a battery leaks, remove all batteries, taking care to keep the leaked fluid from touching your skin or clothes. If fluid from the battery comes into contact with skin or clothes, flush skin with water immediately. Before inserting new batteries, thoroughly clean the battery compartment with a damp paper towel, or follow the battery manufacturer's recommendations for cleanup.
- Dispose of batteries in accordance with local and national disposal regulations (if any). Insert batteries according to the instructions in this manual.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms. Children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions:

- Sit farther from the TV screen.
- Use a smaller TV screen.
- Play in a well-lit room.
- Do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.
- If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Musculoskeletal Disorders

Use of game controllers, keyboards, mice, or other electronic input devices may be linked to various injuries or disorders. When playing video games, as with many activities, you may experience occasional discomfort in your hands, arms, shoulders, neck, or other parts of your body. However, if you experience symptoms such as persistent or recurring discomfort, pain, tingling, numbness, or weakness, stop playing and consult a doctor. DO NOT IGNORE THESE SYMPTOMS. These symptoms may be caused by repetitive strain injuries or by other conditions that occur when you are not playing a video game. Symptoms such as these can be associated with various conditions, including carpal tunnel syndrome, tendonitis, or other musculoskeletal disorders, including cervical, carpal, and other nerve, tendon, or muscle injuries, sprains, strains, and other conditions.

While research is unable to answer many questions about MSDs, there is general agreement that many factors may be linked to their occurrence, including medical and physical conditions, such as repetitive motion, force, vibration, or awkward postures, and some have body during work and other activities (including playing a video game). Some research suggests that at some times a person's physical activity may also be a factor.

Game play activities that may help you work and play more comfortably and possibly reduce your risk of experiencing an MSD can be found in the Healthy Gaming Guide at www.xbox.com. These guidelines address topics such as:

- Posture: how to use comfortable, not awkward, postures.
- Keeping your hands, fingers, and other body parts relaxed.
- Taking breaks.
- Developing a healthy lifestyle.

If you have questions about how your own lifestyle, activities, or medical or physical condition may be related to MSD, see a qualified health professional.

NOTE

To avoid pinching your fingers when inserting, push only on the flat surface of the battery pack.

Remove Controller Batteries Aboard Aircraft

Before boarding any aircraft or packing the wireless controller in luggage that will be checked, remove any batteries from the wireless controller. The wireless controller can transmit microwave (RF) energy, much like a cellular telephone, whenever batteries are installed.

Hearing Loss

Extended exposure to high volumes when using a headset may result in temporary or permanent hearing loss. Extended, unattended third-party headsets may produce higher sound levels than approved Xbox 360 headsets.

Remove Batteries

- To remove batteries from the wireless controller AA battery pack:
 - Press the tab on the top of the AA battery pack and pull down to detach it from the controller.
 - Remove the batteries.
 - Slide the AA battery pack back into place on the controller and push in to lock.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) this device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation. This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy.

If not installed and used in strict accordance with the instructions given in the printed documentation and/or on-screen help files, the device may cause harmful interference with other radio-communications devices (GSM/RF radios, televisions, baby monitors, cordless phones, etc.). There is, however, no guarantee that RF interference will not occur in a particular installation.

To determine if your hardware device is causing interference to other radio-communications devices, disconnect the device from the power supply and remove the batteries (or a battery-operated device). If the interference stops, it was probably caused by the device. If the interference continues, you should disconnect the device or remove the batteries from the device off and then on again. Disconnect the I/O device one at a time and see if the interference stops.

If this hardware device does cause interference, try the following measures to correct it:

- Relocate the antenna of the other radio-communications device (GSM/RF radios, television, baby monitor, cordless phone, etc.) until the interference stops.
- Move the hardware device farther away from the radio or TV, or move it to one side or the other of the radio or TV.
- Plug the device into a different power outlet so that the device and radio or TV are on different circuits or different outlets.
- If necessary, consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for more suggestions.

Any changes or modifications made on the system not expressly approved by the manufacturer could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.
