Intercultural Crisis Communication Christophe Declercq, Federico M. Federici, 2019-11-14 Intercultural Crisis Communication poses pertinent questions and provides powerful responses to crises that have characterised the modern world since 2010. Language mediation in situations of disaster, emergency and conflict is an under developed area of scholarship in Translation Studies. This book responds to a clear need for research drawn from practical experiences in the field and explores the crucial role of translation, interpretation and mediation in contexts of crises. Particular consideration is given to situations where rare or minority languages represent a substantial obstacle to humanitarian operations. Contemporary case studies from the USA, Africa, Europe and Armenia provide major examples of crisis communication that call for more efficient language mediation. Such examples include Syrian displacement, the refugee crisis in Croatia and Italy, international terrorism and national public administration interpreting in conflict and for M'decins sans Frontières as well as the integration of refugee doctors for employment in the UK. With contributions from experts in the field, this volume is of international relevance and provides a multifaceted overview of intercultural communication issues and remedies during crises.

Left Out Kimberley Reynolds, 2016 Left Out presents an alternative and corrective history of writing for children in the first half of the twentieth century Between 1910 and 1949 a number of British publishers writers and illustrators included children s literature in their efforts to make Britain a progressive egalitarian and modern society Some came from privileged backgrounds others from the poorest parts of the poorest cities in the land some belonged to the metropolitan intelligentsia or bohemia others were working class autodidacts but all sought to use writing for children and young people to create activists visionaries and leaders among the rising generation Together they produced a significant number of both politically and aesthetically radical publications for children and young people This radical children s literature was designed to ignite and underpin the work of making a new Britain for a new kind of Briton While there are many dedicated studies of children s literature and childrens writers working in other periods the years 1910 1949 have previously received little critical attention In this study Kimberley Reynolds shows that the accepted characterization of interwar children s literature as retreatist anti modernist and apolitical is too sweeping and that the relationship between children s literature and modernism left wing politics and progressive education has been neglected

Ethnographies of U.S. Empire Carole McGranahan, John F. Collins, 2018-08-02 How do we live in and with empire The contributors to Ethnographies of U S Empire pursue this question by examining empire as an unequally shared present Here empire stands as an entrenched if often invisible part of everyday life central to making and remaking a world in which it is too often presented as an aberration rather than as a structuring condition This volume presents scholarship from across U S imperial formations settler colonialism overseas territories communities impacted by U S military action or political intervention Cold War alliances and fissures and most recently new forms of U S empire after 9 11 From the Mohawk Nation Korea and the Philippines to Iraq and the hills of New Jersey the contributors show how a methodological and theoretical commitment to ethnography sharpens all of our understandings of the novel and timeworn ways people live thrive and resist in the imperial present Contributors Kevin K Birth Joe Bryan John F Collins Jean Dennison Erin Fitz Henry Adriana Mar a Garriga L pez Ol via Maria Gomes da Cunha Matthew Gutmann Ju Hui Judy Han J K haulani Kauanui Eleana Kim Heonik Kwon Soo Ah Kwon Darryl Li Catherine Lutz Sunaina Maira Carole McGranahan Sean T Mitchell Jan M Padios Melissa Rosario Audra Simpson Ann Laura Stoler Lisa Uperesa David Vine

Legal Integration and Language Diversity

C.J.W. Baaij, 2018-02-01 How can the European Union create laws that are uniform in a multitude of languages Specifically how can it attain both legal integration and language diversity simultaneously without the latter compromising the former C J W Baaij argues that the answer lies in the domain of translation A uniform interpretation and application of EU law begins with the ways in which translators and jurist linguists of the EU legislative bodies translate the original legislative draft texts into the various language versions In the European Union law and language are inherently connected The EU pursues legal integration i e the incremental harmonization and unification of its Member States laws for the purpose of reducing national regulatory differences between Member States However in its commitment to the diversity of European languages its legislative institutions enact legislative instruments in 24 languages Language Diversity and Legal Integration assesses these seemingly incompatible policy objectives and contemporary translation practices in the EU legislative procedure and proposes an alternative source oriented approach that better serves EU policy objectives Contrary to the orthodox view in academic literature and to the current policies of the EU this book suggests that the English language version should serve as the original and only authentic legislative text Translation into the other language versions should furthermore avoid prioritizing clarity and fluency over syntactic correspondence and employ neologisms for distinctly EU legal concepts Ultimately Baaij provides practical solutions to the conflict between the equality of all language versions and the need for uniform interpretation and application of EU law
