of teaching and practice ensure the highest outcomes for the integration of voice speech and language as a central ingredient of the actor's craft. She is the most unique and brilliant master teacher in this area I have ever encountered. Rosalba Clemente, Head of Acting Drama Centre, Flinders University. A rite de passage working with Langman's book is an initiation into the practice of Future Theatre. Dr Jane Gilmer, Assistant Professor of Drama, VPA National Institute of Education, Singapore. A remarkable achievement that communicates a lifetime of teaching artistry with grace and depth and most significantly reveals the profound spiritual impulses at the heart of Michael Chekhov's original impulse. A gift for the generations. Dr Diane Caracciolo, Associate Professor of Educational Theatre, Adelphi University. Over the past decades there has been a resurgence of interest in Chekhov's acting technique. The original publishers of his fundamental text To the Actor removed most of the author's references to Rudolf Steiner, but recent studies acknowledge Chekhov's personal interest in anthroposophy as the source of his artistic inspiration. Dawn Langman explores the fundamentals of Chekhov's psycho-physical technique and the metaphysical principles on which it is based. She examines this technique in relation to the specific challenges and gifts provided by the actor's constitution of body, soul, and spirit, and in the context of the canon of great poetic and dramatic texts illuminated by Steiner's insights into humanity's evolving consciousness. The Art of Acting lays the foundation for the second and third books in her series, in which Langman explores Rudolf Steiner's art of speech and its integration with Michael Chekhov's methodology. Together, these books offer a contemporary, spiritually enlivened path of development for the actor, in which the combined insights of Steiner and Chekhov lead to new possibilities for the performing arts.

Lingzhen Wang, 2020-12-14 In Revisiting Women's Cinema Lingzhen Wang ponders the roots of contemporary feminist stagnation and the limits of both commercial mainstream and elite minor cultures by turning to socialist women filmmakers in modern China. She foregrounds their sociopolitical engagements, critical interventions, and popular artistic experiments, offering a new conception of socialist and postsocialist feminisms, mainstream culture, and women's cinema. Wang highlights the films of Wang Ping and Dong Kena in the 1950s and 1960s and Zhang Nuanxin and Huang Shuqin in the 1980s and 1990s to unveil how they have been profoundly misread through extant research paradigms entrenched in Western Cold War ideology, post-second wave cultural feminism, and post-Mao intellectual discourses. Challenging received interpretations, she elucidates how socialist feminism and culture were conceptualized and practiced in relation to China's search not only for national independence and economic development but also for social emancipation, proletarian culture, and socialist internationalism. Wang calls for a critical reevaluation of historical materialism, socialist feminism, and popular culture to forge an integrated emancipatory vision for future transnational feminist and cultural practices.
