Krosnick,I-Chant A. Chiang,Tobias H. Stark,2016-11-10 In recent decades research in political psychology has illuminated the psychological processes underlying important political action both by ordinary citizens and by political leaders As the world has become increasingly engaged in thinking about politics this volume reflects exciting new work by political psychologists to understand the psychological processes underlying Americans political thinking and action In 13 chapters world class scholars present new in depth work exploring public opinion social movements attitudes toward affirmative action the behavior of political leaders the impact of the 9 11 attacks and scientists statements about global warming and gasoline prices Also included are studies of attitude strength that compare the causes and consequences of various strength related constructs This volume will appeal to a wide range of researchers and students in political psychology and political science and may be used as a text in upper level courses requiring a scholarly and contemporary review of major issues in the field      Crowdsourcing, Constructing and Collaborating Siddharth Peter deSouza,Nida Rehman,Saba Sharma,2020-12-30 Citizens around the world use crowdsourced platforms to hold governments accountable to fill gaps in infrastructural and municipal services and to call attention to issues that impact everyday lives such as sexual violence and environmental injustice Crowdsourcing Constructing and Collaborating brings together individuals and groups engaged in building and sustaining platforms for online collaboration and participation to explore and reflect on the methods challenges and potentials of the technology of crowdsourcing and mapping of social impact It brings together people directly involved in a range of projects from around the world I Paid A Bribe Environmental Justice Atlas HarassMap Intolerance Tracker Visualizing Palestine and Humanitarian Tracker to critically reflect on the tactics methods challenges and opportunities of crowdsourcing and crowd mapping as tools for social environmental and political change In an accessible and visually engaging style it shows how participatory digital media become crucial components of journalistic scholarly and activist practices addressing a range of topical challenges including economic corruption sexual harassment political violence and environmental conflict in diverse geographic contexts      Contemporary African American Families Dorothy Smith-Ruiz,Sherri Lawson Clark,Marcia Watson,2016-10-04 For decades the black community has been perceived both in the United States and around the world as one which thinks alike acts alike and lives alike in poor and downtrodden environments Following the persistent effects of the great recession and the American elections of 2008 now more than ever the political and socio economic state of America is crying out for this deficient and prejudiced conception to be dispelled Focusing primarily on black families in America Contemporary African American Families updates empirical research by addressing various aspects including family formation schooling health and parenting Exploring a wide class spectrum among African American families this text also modernizes and subverts much of the research resulting from Moynihan's 1965 report which arguably misunderstood the lived experiences of black people during the movement from slavery to freedom in a Jim Crow society A timely subversion of the myth that America is successfully in a post racial era this new anthology on the Black Family in America will appeal to advanced undergraduate students and research scholars interested in black studies Africana studies women and gender studies sociology political science anthropology criminal justice education psychology public policy health policy and social work

Rare Earth Frontiers Julie M. Klinger, 2018-01-15 Rare Earth Frontiers is a work of human geography that serves to demystify the powerful elements that make possible the miniaturization of electronics green energy and medical technologies and essential telecommunications and defense systems Julie Michelle Klinger draws attention to the fact that the rare earths we rely on most are as common as copper or lead and this means the implications of their extraction are global Klinger excavates the rich historical origins and ongoing ramifications of the quest to mine rare earths in ever more impossible places Klinger writes about the devastating damage to lives and the environment caused by the exploitation of rare earths She demonstrates in human terms how scarcity myths have been conscripted into diverse geopolitical campaigns that use rare earth mining as a pretext to capture spaces that have historically fallen beyond the grasp of centralized power These include legally and logistically forbidding locations in the Amazon Greenland and Afghanistan and on the Moon Drawing on ethnographic archival and interview data gathered in local languages and offering possible solutions to the problems it documents this book examines the production of the rare earth frontier as a place a concept and a zone of contestation sacrifice and transformation
