Advancing Research on Teachers' Professional Vision: Implementing novel Technologies, Methods and Theories Christian Kosel,Tina Seidel ,Christian Hartmann,Ann-Sophie Grub,2024-07-25

A classroom full of students can be overwhelming for teachers It is critical that teachers are able to filter and meaningfully interpret the relevant information in this complex scenario Much of this filtering and interpretation occurs through selective visual perception Over the last decade a rapidly growing number of studies in empirical educational research used eye tracking to investigate teachers selective visual perceptual processes in the classroom Theoretically visual attention and perception are often conceptualized as knowledge based noticing coupled with knowledge based reasoning about what is visually perceived Recent eye tracking studies have shown that experienced teachers in particular show improved selective attention of classroom events through faster detection of relevant information and improved monitoring of learning relevant situations Researchers agree that a critical driver of selective attention processes is the professional knowledge declarative procedural and metacognitive of experienced teachers which controls selective perceptual processes in a top down process The findings are significant and provide important insights for research on teacher professionalization Odd Exam Piers Anthony,2014-07-01 Getting into college is a game of virtual reality in this tale of higher education from the New York Times bestselling author Odd Exam is a novella from Piers Anthony about an unusual college entrance examination Entrance exams are taken in the form of a multi player online game in a semi virtual reality with portals to other worlds and alien monsters For those who qualify board and tuition will be free Can this be serious The College Board College Handbook 2000 College Board,College Board Staff,1999-08-31 With this guide and College Explorer CD ROM students can get in depth information about colleges including admission policies academic requirements application deadlines acceptance rates and many more details A Patterned Life Eileen Bebbington,2014-10-20 David Bebbington one of the most influential historians working today is widely acknowledged as a world authority on religious history He is also recognized for having devised the Bebbington Quadrilateral as the standard definition of evangelicalism one of the most important global religious movements of the twenty first century In this lively study Eileen Bebbington who first met her husband as an undergraduate at the University of Cambridge over forty years ago paints a vivid portrait of the life and thought of this leading scholar Many who know Professor Bebbington s most celebrated books such as Evangelicalism in Modern Britain Patterns in History The Mind of Gladstone and Victorian Religious Revivals will be delighted to learn that his first such effort was actually A History of the Ancient World with Which Is Incorporated Classical Mythology a duly footnoted four volume work written at the age of nine A Patterned Life is much more than an account of the intellectual development of a preeminent historian it is a study of a life lived as a disciple of Jesus Christ a human and often humorous account of eccentricities an honest acknowledgment of trials and an inspiring witness to one person s efforts to integrate a deep earnest Christian faith with the best of modern thought Reawakening the Public Research University Renée Beville Flower,Brent M. Haddad,2014-03-28 A core institution in the human endeavor the public research university is in transition As U S public universities adapt to a multi decadal decline in public funding they risk losing their essential character as a generator evaluator and archivist of ideas and as a wellspring of tomorrow s intellectual economic and political leaders This book explores the core interdependent and coevolving structures of the research university its physical domain buildings libraries classrooms administration governance and funding and intellectual structures curricula and degree programs It searches the U S history of the public research university to identify its essential qualities and generates recommendations that identify the crucial roles of university administration state government and federal government The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1865 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance ,1865 Countryside Connections Catherine Hagan Hennessy,Robin Means,Vanessa Burholt,2014-04-29 Older people in the countryside are vastly under researched compared to those in urban areas This innovative volume the first project based book in the New Dynamics of Ageing series offers a unique interdisciplinary perspective on this issue focusing on older people's role as assets in rural civic society. It demonstrates how the use of diverse methods from across disciplines aims to increase public engagement with this research. The authors examine the ways in which rural elders are connected to community and place the contributions they make to family and neighbours and the organisations and groups to which they belong. Highly topical issues around later life explored through these perspectives include older people's financial security, leisure access to services, transport and mobility, civic engagement and digital inclusion, all considered within the rural context in an era of fiscal austerity. In doing so, this book challenges problem-based views of ageing rural populations through considering barriers and facilitators to older people's inclusion and opportunities for community participation in rural settings. Countryside Connections is a valuable text for students, researchers and practitioners with interests in rural ageing, civic engagement and interdisciplinary methods, theory and practice. Unwanted Visionaries Sergey Radchenko, 2014-01-07

Mikhail Gorbachev's relations with the West have captured the imagination of contemporaries and historians alike, but his vision of Soviet leadership in Asia has received far less attention. The failure of Gorbachev's Asian initiatives has had dramatic consequences: by the late 1980s the Soviet Union was in full retreat from Asia, and since the Soviet collapse Russia has been left on the sidelines of the Pacific century. In this exceptionally wide-ranging and deeply researched book, Sergey Radchenko offers an illuminating account of the end of the Cold War in the East, tracing the death of Soviet ambitions in Asia. Radchenko shows that Gorbachev began with big gestures, of which the most important was his initiative in Vladivostok in July 1986, the opening salvo of the Soviet charm offensive in Asia-Pacific. The problem Radchenko points out was that no one in Asia bought into Gorbachev's vision. If the Soviets had realized earlier that they needed Asia more than Asia needed them, they might have played a much more important role there. Instead, China was largely misunderstood, early gains in India were squandered, Japan was ignored or condescended to, and the Korean scenario played out in ways most unfavorable to Russia. Radchenko captures all of this in his compelling narrative, shedding important new light on many key players, including Gorbachev, Deng Xiaoping, Margaret Thatcher, Boris Yeltsin, and George H. W. Bush, among others. Based on archival research in Russia, China, Mongolia, India, the United States, Britain, and numerous European countries, and on interviews with former policy makers in a dozen countries, Unwanted Visionaries presents a deftly narrated and penetrating portrait of the Soviet failure in the East, with a wealth of valuable insight into Asia today.
