Assessment in Geographical Education: An International Perspective

Theresa Bourke, Reece Mills, Rod Lane, 2022-02-27 In recent years there has been increased attention paid to the importance of assessment in Geographical Education the chosen subject for this book Assessment is an important tool for collecting information about student learning and for providing timely data to inform key stakeholders including students teachers parents and policymakers To be effective assessment needs to be valid reliable and fair Validity is about ensuring that we assess what we claim we are assessing Reliability is about measuring performance and understanding in a consistent way Without validity and reliability assessment is unlikely to provide equitable opportunities for students to demonstrate what they know and can do As geography educators it is therefore important that we identify the core concepts and skills in geography that we want students to master We need a clear understanding of what the progression of learning looks like for each concept and skill so we can develop fit for purpose assessments that track and improve student learning While there is a substantial literature on evidence based assessment in secondary school contexts research exploring best practice assessment in geography is rare This is a concern given the distinctive nature of geography and the important role of assessment in the learning process This scholarly collection seeks to address this issue by connecting research in educational assessment with the domain of geography The chapters are written by leading researchers in Geographical Education from across the globe These chapters provide examples of innovation through the collective voices of geography teacher educator scholars from across Australia USA South Korea Germany Switzerland and Singapore What unifies the work in this book is that each chapter focuses on a key feature of the discipline of geography providing scholarly examples of evidence based practices for assessing student s knowledge and skills

Conflicts in History Education in Europe Ander Delgado, Andrew Mycock, 2023-07-01 The heightened resonance of identity driven politics in many states across twenty first century Europe emphasizes the critical role of history in shaping public contestation of the idea of the nation and accordant manifestations of nationalism and national identity How the past is interpreted or what and how is remembered has proven increasingly febrile contentious and divisive Debates about history have gone beyond academia and have permeated and polarised politics and society in many European countries Intense debate and dispute about national history and culture has often focused on the history teaching in schools colleges and universities According to the aforementioned it is evident that the teaching of history in the classroom is a relevant topic within the educational system For this reason it is not surprising that many times the choice of what kind of history to teach becomes a controversial topic

The existence in a given society of different visions about the nation or the various responses proposed to face the social challenges existing in it immigration independence nationalisms can turn the teaching of history into a debated and controversial topic Logically depending on the specific political context of each country this debate can acquire different developments and characteristics The school is not an institution isolated from its socio political context In fact both areas constantly interact Therefore this book proposes an approach to this topic that tries to connect the specific political context of different countries with the debates about education and history teaching from 1990 until the present It deals with the extent to which the social and political context affects the history teaching practice developed in the classrooms through the decisions made on the official curricula and textbooks Emphasizing this connection between both aspects is one of the strengths of this book That is the reason why this book proposes an approach to that reality from diverse points of view and show the different materializations observed in this area in the studied cases The chapters of this volume allow us to verify this heterogeneous reality and help enrich our knowledge on this broad and interesting topic

Spaces of Geographical Thought Paul J. Cloke, Ron Johnston, Ronald John Johnston, 2005-02-16 Examining key ideas like space and place which inform the geographic imagination this text discusses the core conceptual vocabulary of human geography

Using Analogies in Middle and Secondary Science Classrooms Allan G. Harrison, Richard K. Coll, 2008 Makes a distinct contribution to science instruction Many teachers attempt to use analogies and metaphors to introduce abstract concepts however little is available on how to do this with specific examples The authors definitely address a need Douglas Llewellyn Professor of Science Education St John Fisher College Helps preservice and novice teachers use analogies and allows teachers to bridge the gap that sometimes occurs when students are learning abstract concepts The examples cover a wide variety of subjects and are written in a concise easy to understand voice John D Ophus Assistant Professor of Science Education University of Northern Iowa Use the power of analogies to enliven your science classroom and meet national standards When analogies are effective they readily engage students interest and clarify difficult and abstract ideas But not all analogies are created equal and developing them is not always intuitive Drawing from an extensive research base on the use of analogies in the classroom Allan Harrison Richard Coll and a team of science experts come to the rescue with more than 40 teacher friendly ready to use analogies for biology earth and space studies chemistry and physics The authors show teachers how and when to select analogies for instruction why certain analogies work or break down how to gauge their effectiveness and how to improve them Designed to enhance teachers presentation and interpretation of analogies through focus action and reflection FAR this guidebook includes Key science concepts explained through effective models and analogies Research findings on the use of analogies and their motivational impact Guidelines that allow teachers and students to develop their own analogies Numerous visual aids science vignettes and anecdotes to support the use of analogies Linked to NSTA standards Using Analogies in Middle Secondary Science

Classrooms will become a much used text by teachers who want to enrich inquiry based science instruction The American Bookseller ,1889 Setting Consensus Goals for Academic Achievement James Pellegrino,Laurens Wise,Nambury Raju,2014-10-13 This special issue is based on a workshop which began with a description and examination of the current National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP standard setting model then looked to standard setting applications outside of education These applications included those that focus on human performance and the adequacy of human performance in these contexts raters were asked to focus on the knowledge and skills that underlie competent performance Researchers also examined applications that focus on the impact of environmental agents on life and the ecology in these cases raters began with the knowledge that more or less of a substance is better and as for NAEP the judgment task was to determine how good is good enough They wished to examine parallels in the objectives empirical grounding judgmental requirements and policy tensions for standard setting in NAEP and in other domains These papers were commissioned to examine the current state of affairs and residual issues with respect to achievement level setting in NAEP and to help determine whether the models and methods used in other disciplines have useful application to education It is important to note that the papers represent the authors views not necessarily those of the committee or National Research Council This issue and the workshop discussion point out a number of analogies between the objectives requisite data judgment requirements and policy issues for NAEP and other applications The editors hope that this issue and wide distribution of these papers will prompt others to join in this interesting analysis and debate African Books in Print ,1978
