Teaching and Learning Secondary School Mathematics Ann Kajander, Jennifer Holm, Egan J Chernoff, 2018-10-24 This volume brings together recent research and commentary in secondary school mathematics from a breadth of contemporary Canadian and International researchers and educators It is both representative of mathematics education generally as well as unique to the particular geography and culture of Canada The chapters address topics of broad applicability such as technology in learning mathematics recent interest in social justice contexts in the learning of mathematics as well as Indigenous education The voices of classroom practitioners the group ultimately responsible for implementing this new vision of mathematics teaching and learning are not forgotten Each section includes a chapter written by a classroom teacher making this volume unique in its approach We have much to learn from one another and this volume takes the stance that the development of a united vision supported by both research and professional dialog provides the first step

Annual Report Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education, 2012

Twenty-Twenty Hindsight Mosiuoa Sekese, 2013-05-16 Twenty twenty hindsight means perfect understanding of events only after they have happened In his book Mosiuoa Sekese looks back on his life in the old and new South Africa and gives his own perceptive interpretation of the past events Sekese suffered discrimination and prejudice under the old apartheid government as well as the new democratic regime His story is highly personal but provides the reader with unique insights into the social and educational challenges that South Africa continues to grapple with I had a quick read and I find the content heartbreaking but fascinating Especially as a white South African you are drawing me into a world that I always knew existed but which few people have the guts and conviction to paint into words

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Felix Maringe, Martin Prew, 2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the books chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience
