Revitalizing Minority Voices Renée DePalma, Diane Brook Napier, Willibroad Dze-Ngwa, 2015-10-13 Whose voices are taken into account in language policy and planning and whose have been ignored or more actively silenced This is the central question addressed in this book What are the political and social factors that have helped to create these historical exclusions in terms of endangerment and loss of traditional languages What are the global influences on the local landscape of languages and linguistic rights What are the implications for cultural heritage and identity In analyzing these questions and reporting on research in an array of countries the chapter authors also suggest ways forward toward designing more inclusive policies and practices in educational contexts whether in the context of obligatory schooling or in less formal educational contexts UNESCO estimates that at least 43% of the estimated 6000 languages spoken in the world are endangered Such statistics remind us that the linguistic diversity that characterizes the human condition is a fragile thing and that certain languages need to be cultivated if they are to survive into the 21st century and beyond The chapters in this volume originated as presentations at the XV World Congress of Comparative Education Societies Buenos Aires Argentina 2013 They represent several global regions namely Africa Asia Europe and North America They provide analyses of language policy and politics at the local regional national and transnational levels grass roots linguistic revitalization initiatives and the attitudes of minority and majority speakers toward minoritized languages and cultures and towards intercultural and multilingual education programs div The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. The Rise and Fall of Philanthropy in East Africa Robert G. Gregory,2017-07-05 Robert G Gregory challenges the apparent assumption that non Western peoples lack a significant indigenous philanthropic culture Focusing on the large South Asian community in East Africa he relates how over a century they built a philanthropic culture of great magnitude and how it finally collapsed under the ascendancy of increasing state regulation and policies directed against non African communities Compelled by poverty to seek better opportunities overseas most Asians arrived in East Africa as peasant farmers Denied access to productive land and sensing economic opportunity they turned to business Despite severe forms of racial discrimination in the colonial society they suffered few restrictions on their business enterprises and some became very wealthy Gregory s historical analysis shows philanthropy as an important contribution one that stemmed from deep roots in Hindu Muslim and Buddhist culture The sense of nonracial social responsibility cultivated social medical and educational facilities designed for all This age of philanthropy terminated with the Asian exodus The socialist and racial policies adopted by East African governments over the past few decades have virtually destroyed the foundation necessary for philanthropy as well as the distinct Asian cultural identity Gregory s account of the East Asian s role in philanthropy deserves great attention and sober reflection
