Ideal Homes of the Thirties Ideal Homes,2013-01-16 Adapted from a rare 1933 catalog this volume showcases sixty plans for two story houses It features photographs most in full color floor plans and descriptive text that depict a splendid variety of economic styles including colonial mission foursquare and bungalow Each house appears in a two page spread forming an elegant and highly readable presentation The Plan Service Company of St Paul Minnesota published a series of Ideal Homes catalogs in the 1920s and 30s This particular issue has been long out of print and its reissue offers professional architects and armchair renovators alike an authentic look at houses of the era Daniel D Reiff an expert on vintage house design catalogs provides an informative introduction Ideal homes, 1918-39 Deborah Sugg

Ryan,2018-03-06 This book explores the aspirations and tastes of new suburban communities in interwar England for domestic architecture and design that was both modern and nostalgic in a period where homeownership became the norm It investigates the ways in which new suburban class and gender identities were forged through the architecture design and decoration of the home in choices such as ebony elephants placed on mantelpieces and modern Easiwork dressers in kitchens Ultimately it argues that a specifically suburban modernism emerged which looked backwards to the past whilst looking forward to the future Thus the inter war ideal home was both a retreat from the outside world and a site of change and experimentation The book also examines how the interwar home is lived in today It will appeal to academics and students in design social and cultural history as well as a wider readership curious about interwar homes Ideal homes Deborah Sugg Ryan,2020-04-01 Ideal homes investigates the tastes and aspirations of the suburban communities that emerged in Britain after the First World War It explores how new class and gender identities were forged through the architecture and decoration of the home This edition includes a chapter on researching the history of your own house

Ideal Homes? Tony Chapman,Jenny Hockey,2002-09-11 Ideal Homes shows how both popular images and experiences of home life relate to the ability of society s members to produce and respond to social change The book provides for the first time an analysis of the space of the home and the experiences of home life by writers from a wide range of disciplines including sociology architecture geography and anthropology It covers a range of subjects including gender roles different generations relationships to home the changing nature of the family transition and risk and alternative visions of home The Ideal

Home Cook Book Laura Davenport,1913 A Pioneer's Search for an Ideal Home Phoebe Goodell Judson,2018-12-02 Phoebe Judson was a young bride in 1853 when she and her husband crossed the plains from Ohio to the Puget Sound area of Washington Territory She was ninety five when this book was first published in 1925 The years between were spent in a pioneer s search for an ideal home and in living there when it was finally found at the head of the Nooksack River almost on the Canadian border Phoebe Judson's account of the journey west is based on daily diary entries detailing her fear excitement and exhaustion At the end of the trail the Judsons encountered hardships aplenty causing them to abandon a farm and business in Olympia before their arrival in the Nooksack Valley During the Indian Wars they holed up in a fort at Claquato In time Phoebe overcame her fear of the Indians learned the Chinook language and won their friendship All this is told in vivid detail by a woman of great dignity and charm whom readers will long remember Susan Armitage professor of history at Washington State University calls A Pioneer's Search for an Ideal Home a classic pioneering account important for its woman's point of view Classical Ornament C. Bureau of Immigration, 1914 Alison and Peter Smithson Alison Smithson, Peter Smithson, Beatriz Colomina, Design Museum (London, England), 2004 Striving to adapt the progressive ideas of the pre war modern movement to the specific human needs of post war reconstruction Alison and Peter Smithson were among the most influential and controversial architects of the latter half of the twentieth century As younger members of CIAM Congr s Internationaux d Architecture Moderne and as founding members of Team 10 they were at the heart of the debate on the future course of Modern Architecture Their polemics and designs addressing issues such as the rising consumer society and the orientation of urban planning laid the foundations for New Brutalism and the Pop Art Movement of the 1960s An important adaptation made by the Smithsons and their generation was the rejection of modernism's machine aesthetics The new notions of place and territory were juxtaposed to Le Corbusier's machine habiter To the Smithsons a house was a particular place which should be suited to its location and able to meet the ordinary requirements of everyday life and to accommodate its inhabitants individual patterns of use This exhibition examines the evolution of the Smithsons approach to this everyday art of inhabitation It does this by extensively documenting most of their designs for individual dwellings especially their optimistic House of the Future of 1956 and the series of renovations of and additions to the fairy tale like Hexenhaus in Germany from the late 1980s onward Advertising and Consumer Culture in Ireland, 1922-1962 Stephanie Rains, 2022-08-13 This book explores advertising and consumer culture as key aspects of everyday life and national culture in twentieth century Ireland It makes a particular argument that the presence of anti materialist rhetoric in some parts of Irish public life after Independence has obscured the existence of a lively consumer culture throughout the period as evident in the many advertisements which supported Irish newspapers and magazines the jingles broadcast on Irish radio and the neon advertising signs and billboards on Irish streets The book focuses on the development of the advertising industry itself and the sophisticated ways in which it worked to associate consumption with national pride It also considers the advertising of

Irish homes and home appliances as an important focus of consumption and the targeting of Irish women as the principal consumers in those homes as well as publicity stunts and advertising in public space and the form and style of commercial broadcasting and sponsored programming from the earliest days of Irish radio It finishes with an examination of the opposite extremes of consumer abundance displayed in the annual Christmas advertising as opposed to the consumer culture response to shortages during World War Two Ideal Homes, Or, Our Golden Mile-stones ... Julia McNair Wright,1895

117 House Designs of the Twenties Gordon-Van Tine Co.,2012-12-25 In the post World War I era as the economic boom of the 1920s gathered momentum millions of Americans set out to make the dream of owning their own home come true Labor and materials were plentiful and cheap and new trends in home design made the prospect of homebuilding an exciting venture This fascinating book a reprint of a rare catalog of prefabricated houses from 1923 reveals in detail the types of design offered to those in the market for a new home in the early 1920s Of the 117 designs included most are substantial middle class homes But the popularity of cottages and bungalows is also apparent in the wide selection of practical and appealing designs depicted And there are large formal homes as well many of which embody America s unflagging interest in colonial styling Some have affluent touches such as a sleeping porch or a sun room Many reflect a strong interest in exterior detailing in the form of cypress siding broad eaves heavy timber brackets stucco pillars and flower boxes among other features Each house is shown in a large frontal illustration Floor plans for the first and second floors are included and interior and exterior detailing are extensively described The specifics of plumbing heating and lighting are included in a special section at the back of the book Architects architectural and social historians anyone interested in American home design will enjoy the rich variety of designs presented Republished in association with the Athenaeum of Philadelphia this authentic catalog provides not only an indispensable repository of information about the homes themselves but a source of insight into American life at a time when owning a home became a widely realizable dream for a rapidly growing middle class

Picturing home Hollie Price,2021-02-09 Picturing home examines the depiction of domestic life in British feature films made and released in the 1940s It explores how pictorial representations of home onscreen in this period re imagined modes of address that had been used during the interwar years to promote ideas about domestic modernity Picturing home provides a close analysis of domestic life as constructed in eight films contextualising them in relation to a broader offscreen culture surrounding the suburban home including magazines advertisements furniture catalogues and displays at the Daily Mail Ideal Home Exhibition In doing so it offers a new reading of British 1940s films which demonstrates how they trod a delicate path balancing prewar and postwar traditional and modern private and public concerns Designing the British

Post-War Home Fiona Fisher,2015-04-10 In Designing the British Post War Home Fiona Fisher explores the development of modern domestic architecture in Britain through a detailed study of the work of the successful Surrey based architectural practice of Kenneth Wood Wood s firm is representative of a geographically distinct category of post war architectural and design practice that of the small private practice that flourished in Britain's expanding suburbs after the removal of wartime building restrictions. Such firms which played an important role in the development of British domestic design are currently under represented within architectural histories of the period. The private house represents an important site in which new spatial material and aesthetic parameters for modern living were defined after the Second World War. Within a British context the architect designed private house remained an important vehicle for the investigation of architectural ideas by second generation modernist architects and designers. Through a series of case study houses designed by Wood's firm the book reconsiders the progress of modern domestic architecture in Britain and demonstrates the ways in which architectural discourse and practice intersected with the experience performance and representation of domestic modernity in post war Britain.
