Land Reforms and Natural Resource Conflicts in Africa Tukumbi Lumumba-Kasongo, 2015-10-16 This book is a critical examination of the place and role of land in Africa the role of land in political formation and national identification and the land as an economic resource within both national economic development and liberal globalization Colonial and post colonial conflicts have been rooted in four related claims the struggle over scarce resources especially access to land resources abundance of natural resources mismanaged or appropriated by both the states local power systems and multinationals weak or absent articulated land tenure policies leading to speculation or hybrid policy framework and the imperatives of the global liberalization based on the free market principles to regulate the land question and mineral appropriation issue The actualization of these combined claims have led to conflicts among ethnic groups or between them and governments This book is not only about conflicts but also about local policy achievements that have been produced on the land question It provides a critical understanding of the forces and claims related to land tenure systems as part of the state policy and its system of governance      Tuberculosis, Leprosy and Mycobacterial Diseases of Man and Animals Harshini Mukundan, Mark Chambers, Ray Waters, Michelle Larsen, 2015-09-28 Mycobacteria are bacterial pathogens which cause diseases in humans and non human animals This monograph will primarily cover the most important and widely researched groups of mycobacteria members of the Mycobacterium tuberculosis complex MTC and Mycobacterium leprae across a wide range of host species M tuberculosis and M bovis are particularly relevant with the increasing drug resistance and co infection with HIV associated with M tuberculosis and the possible cross infection of badgers and cattle associated with M bovis This book will provide a reference for researchers working in different fields creating a work which draws together information on different pathogens and by considering the diseases in a zoonotic context provides a One Health approach to these important groups of diseases      Africa on the Move Malte Steinbrink, Hannah Niedenföhr, 2019-10-31 This book discusses migration and space spanning social network relationships as normal realities of life in African societies It offers an overview of the research landscape and introduces an agency centered theoretical model that provides a conceptual framework for translocality The authors Malte Steinbrink and Hannah Niedenföhr plead for a translocal approach to social transformation showing how the translocality of livelihoods is shaping the lives of half a billion people on the continent and impacting local conditions Using an action oriented approach the book analyzes the effects of translocal livelihoods on diverse aspects of economic environmental and social change in rural Sub Saharan Africa The study thus makes an innovative contribution not only to migration research and development studies but also to the discussion around the policy and practice of development cooperation and planning It is time to rethink development in light of translocal realities The book appeals to scholars and researchers in geography sociology policy making and planning development studies migration research and rural development      What a Fish Knows Jonathan Balcombe, 2024-09-04 The New York Times bestselling exploration of the world from a piscine perspective makes a persuasive case that what fish know is quite a lot Elizabeth Kolbert The New York Review of Books Do fishes think Do they really have three second memories And can they recognize the humans who peer back at them from above the surface of the water In What a Fish Knows ethologist Jonathan Balcombe addresses these questions and more revealing the surprising capabilities of fishes Upending our assumptions about fishes Balcombe portrays them not as unfeeling dead eyed feeding machines but as sentient aware social and even Machiavellian in other words much like us What a Fish Knows draws on the latest science to present a fresh look at these remarkable creatures Fishes conduct elaborate courtship rituals and develop lifelong bonds with shoalmates They also plan hunt cooperatively use tools curry favor deceive one another and punish wrongdoers Highlighting breakthrough discoveries from around the world and pondering his own encounters with fishes Balcombe examines the fascinating means by which fishes gain knowledge of the places they inhabit from shallow tide pools to the deepest reaches of the ocean Teeming with insights and exciting discoveries What a Fish Knows will forever change how we see our aquatic cousins the pet goldfish included Longlisted for the PEN E O Wilson Literary Science Writing Award Balcombe vividly shows that fish have feelings and deserve consideration and protection like other sentient beings The Dalai Lama An exhaustively researched and elegantly written argument for the moral claims of ichthyofauna Nathan Heller The New Yorker Engrossing Nature With the vivacious energy of a cracking good storyteller Balcombe makes a convincing case Publishers Weekly

Sustainability of Southern African Ecosystems under Global Change Graham P. von Maltitz, Guy F. Midgley, Jennifer Veitch, Christian Brümmer, Reimund P. Rötter, Finn A. Viehberg, Maik Veste, 2024-01-05 This open access book about the sustainability of marine and terrestrial ecosystems in southern Africa provides a synthesis of the research program Science Partnerships for the Adaptation to Complex Earth System Processes SPACES II 2018 2022 It addresses the scientific social and economic issues related to climate change its potential impacts on the various ecosystems adaptations and management interventions for enhancing systems resilience in Southern Africa It is written by numerous scientists from African states and Germany and summarizes the latest research findings which are of great relevance for a better understanding of climate change impacts adaptations and vulnerabilities as well as for developing management options and policy options to reduce the associated risks This is crucial considering that the projected African population increase is exceptional Furthermore climate change is assumed to hit southern Africa extremely hard with a significant increase in extreme events and the frequency of severe droughts heat waves and flooding Southern Africa hosts a high variety of ecosystems which belongs to important biodiversity hotspots for unique flora and fauna The surrounding oceans form in turn a bottle neck within the ocean s global thermohaline circulation act as a still poorly understood carbon sink and source and play an important role for fisheries as they are highly productive Considering these important aspects the book is an important interdisciplinary contribution to the scientific literature and will find a wide readership The book is aimed at students teachers and scientists in the fields of terrestrial and marine ecology environmental nature and landscape planning agriculture environmental and resource management biodiversity and nature conservation as well as scientists and representatives in specialised authorities and associations nature conservationists and policy makers of related disciplines

Tourism Economics Metin Kozak, 2015-09-04 This book examines tourism economics in detail providing a range of specific case studies of tourism operations in various countries across the world The contributors to this volume are from diverse locations with ten countries across four continents represented namely Canada China Greece India Iran Poland Portugal South Africa Spain and the USA The book is systematic in structure and thorough in content and will be useful for both academics and tourism professionals seeking to update their knowledge and practice of tourism economics and to contribute to the field by developing further research proposals at both the micro and macro levels

Water and Soil in Holy Matrimony? Munyaradzi Mabeza, 2017-02-10 This book is a biography based on a qualitative ethnographic study of adaptation to climate by Mr Zephaniah Phiri Maseko an award winning smallholder farmer from Zvishavane rural Zimbabwe Ethnographic data provides insight and lessons of Mr Phiri Maseko and other farmers practices for rethinking existing strategies for adaptation to climate change The concept of adaptation is probed in relationship to the closely related concepts of vulnerability resilience and innovation This study also explores the concept of conviviality and argues that Mr Phiri Masekos adaptation to climate hinges on mediating barriers between local and exogenous knowledge systems The book argues that Mr Phiri Maseko offered tangible adaptive climate strategies through his innovations that marry water and soil so that it wont elope and run off but raise a family on his plot His agricultural practices are anchored on the Shona concept of hurudza an exceptionally productive farmer This book explores the concept and practices of hurudza to suggest that the latter day hurudza commercial farmer as embodied by Mr Phiri Maseko offers an important set of resources for the development of climate adaptation strategies in the region This study of smallholder farmers adoption of innovations to climate highlights the complex interplay of multiple factors that act as barriers to uptake Such interplay of multiple stressors increases the vulnerability of smallholders The study concludes by arguing that in as much as the skewed colonial land policy impoverished the smallholder farmers Mr Phiri Maseko nonetheless redefined himself as a latter day hurudza and thus breaks free from the poverty cycle by conjuring ingenious ways of reducing vulnerability to climate The book does not suggest that Mr Phiri Masekos innovations offer a silver bullet solution to the insecure rural livelihoods of smallholder farmers nevertheless they are a source of hope in an environment of uncertainty His steely tenacity in the face of a multi stressor environment is to be treasured

Migration, Crisis and Temporality at the Zimbabwe-South Africa Border Kudakwashe Vanyoro, 2024-02-29 Only 15 kilometres away from the border of Zimbabwe Musina is an obscure town in South Africa that the media cast into the public eye in the wake of the 2008 Zimbabwean economic crisis Taking as its starting point the arrival of thousands of displaced Zimbabwean migrants at Musina this book presents valuable new perspectives on the temporality of migration and the governance of immobilities The author explores the role of humanitarian actors in supporting migrants and examines the outcomes of government led activities in the longer term This is an insightful assessment of how state and non state practices intertwine in the management of largely immobile people and of the importance of time in understanding African migration and borders

Institutional Arrangements for Conservation, Development and Tourism in Eastern and Southern Africa René van der Duim, Machiel Lamers, Jakomijn van Wijk, 2014-11-16 This book presents an overview of different institutional arrangements for tourism biodiversity conservation and rural poverty reduction in eastern and southern Africa These approaches range from conservancies in Namibia community based organizations in Botswana conservation enterprises in Kenya private game reserves in South Africa to sport hunting in Uganda and transfrontier conservation areas The book presents a comparative analysis of these arrangements and highlights that most arrangements emerged in the 1990s through either a decentralized or centralized change trajectory that was sponsored by donors They aim to address some of the challenges of the fortress types of conservation by combining principles of community based natural resource management with a neoliberal approach to conservation evident in the use of tourism as the main mechanism for accruing benefits from wildlife The book illustrates the empirical relevance of these novel arrangements by presenting their growth in numbers and discuss how these arrangements differ in their form With respect to the conservation and development impacts of these arrangements we show that they have secured large amounts of land for conservation but also generated governance challenges and disputes on tourism benefit sharing affecting the stability of these arrangements to generate socioeconomic and conservation benefits

Mud to bricks: A review of school infrastructure spending and delivery Carmen Abdoll, Conrad Barberton, 2014-07-04 The Centre for Child Law commissioned this study by Cornerstone Economic Research to track school infrastructure spending and delivery The report written by Carmen Abdoll and Conrad Barberton makes the concerning finding that the national Department of Basic Education has woefully underspent the School Infrastructure Backlog grant for two years running In 2011 2012 spending was a little over 10 per cent and only at 23 per cent in 2012 2013 at the end of the third quarter The ASIDI target for the number of schools to be built in 2011 2012 and 2012 2013 was 49 However only 10 had been completed by the end of the first year They predict that if the DBE continues at the same delivery rate a realistic timeframe for the eradication of schools with inappropriate structures is probably 2023 24 They make recommendations which if followed could shorten the delay significantly This study shows the importance of monitoring and evaluating progress against court orders and out of court settlements to ensure that the right to a basic education is made real

African Archaeology Without Frontiers Chapurukha M Kusimba, Santos Tchande, Dirk Seidensticker, Adrienne

Daggett, Marilee Wood, Laure Dussubieux, Tim Forssman, Kate Smuts, Nick Wiltshire, Akin Ogundiran, Matthew Davies, Caleb Adebayo Folorunso, Timothy Kipkeu Kipruto, Freda M'Mbogori, Henrietta L Moore, Emubosa Orijemie, Alex Schoeman, Festo W Gabriel, Elinaza Mjema, Philip de Barros, Gabriella Lucidi, Narcisse, 2016-12-01 Confronting national linguistic and disciplinary boundaries contributors to African Archaeology Without Frontiers argue against artificial limits and divisions created through the study of ages that in reality overlap and cannot and should not be understood in isolation Papers are drawn from the proceedings of the landmark 14th PanAfrican Archaeological Association Congress held in Johannesburg in 2014 nearly seven decades after the conference planned for 1951 was re located to Algiers for ideological reasons following the National Party's rise to power in South Africa Contributions by keynote speakers Chapurukha Kusimba and Akin Ogundiran encourage African archaeologists to practise an archaeology that collaborates across many related fields of study to enrich our understanding of the past The nine papers cover a broad geographical sweep by incorporating material on ongoing projects throughout the continent including South Africa Botswana Cameroon Togo Tanzania Kenya and Nigeria Thematically the papers included in the volume address issues of identity and interaction and the need to balance cultural heritage management and sustainable development derived from a continent racked by social inequalities and crippling poverty Edited by three leading archaeologists the collection covers many aspects of African archaeology and a range of periods from the earliest hominins to the historical period It will appeal to specialists and interested amateurs

Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb, 2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization

The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, 2016-09-20 The publication provides the first comprehensive text that reflects on a century of the development of geography as an academic discipline at South African universities The book showcases a broad and textured review of South Africa's geography departments their staff members their times and the different Geographies they engaged in The book lays the foundation from which more expansive individual departmental histories can be written in the future      Joint Evaluation of the Role and Contribution of the United Nations System in the Republic of South Africa, 2009 This evaluation of the role and contribution of the United Nations system to the Republic of South Africa was conducted between August 2008 and March 2009 by an independent external team of South African and international evaluation specialists The report is the outcome of a new approach to evaluation in the United Nations based on partnership between a national government and the UN Evaluation Group It is an attempt to address the call in the Triennial Comprehensive Policy Review for nationally led evaluations and capacity development in evaluation Publisher's description

Illicit Financial Flows from South Africa Serges Djoyou Kamga, 2021-09-21 This book examines the detrimental impact of illicit financial flows on South Africa's development political economy and transformation in the 21st century Over the years illicit financial flows have led to the systematic looting and channelling away of South African resources yet they are rarely studied by researchers looking to explain the country's underdevelopment and political economy This book looks across sectors showing that illicit financial flows cut across all the key pillars of development frustrating the betterment of people's lives in South Africa Investigating the problem from a decolonial perspective the book delves deep into the catastrophic impacts of illicit financial flows for people and the economy discusses how the problem is being combatted and ultimately suggests solutions for rebuilding social trust between people and the state Making an important contribution to the decolonial debate as well as to discussions of South Africa's political economy this book will be of interest to researchers across African studies global development political science law and corruption studies      Pathways to Development Samuel Hickey, Kunal Sen, 2024 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY BC ND 4.0 International License It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The puzzle of why some countries are wealthier and more developed than others continues to confound students and practitioners of development alike Whereas earlier grand explanations focused on issues of geography or institutions the second decade of the 21st century finally saw politics arrive centre stage within international development This catalyzed a search to answer the key question under what conditions do governments become committed to and capable of delivering development How can these processes be conceptualized and researched And what if anything can be done to get the politics right for development Pathways to Development draws on a major comparative research effort to present new answers to the question of how politics shapes development It develops and applies a power domains framework across multiple countries in the global South to uncover the political drivers of development across a wide range of policy areas including economic growth gender equity health and education Hickey and Sen find that a country's pathway to development is shaped less by institutional type than by the nature of the politics and power relations that underpinned these institutions and which shape how they actually function in practice within different policy domains Comparative analysis reveals two alternative pathways to developmental outcomes each of which is specific to particular configurations of power The first involves a dominant ruling coalition with a strong developmental vision that faces an existential threat from social forces the second involves competitive settlements within which the short term vision of ruling elites and the politicization of the public bureaucracy are offset by the presence of strong and coherent coalitions within particular policy domains Hickey and Sen use these insights to generate innovative practical suggestions for policy actors seeking to promote inclusive development that are aligned to critical differences in political context
