I. INTRODUCTION (HEADING 1)

All manuscripts must be in English. These guidelines include complete descriptions of the fonts, spacing, and related information for producing your proceedings manuscripts. Please follow them and if you have any questions, direct them to the production editor in charge of your proceedings (see author-kit message for contact info).

This template provides authors with most of the formatting specifications needed for preparing electronic versions of their papers. All standard paper components have been specified for three reasons: (1) ease of use when formatting individual papers, (2) automatic compliance to electronic requirements that facilitate the concurrent or later production of electronic products, and (3) conformity of style throughout a conference proceedings. Margins, column widths, line spacing, and type styles are built-in; examples of the type styles are provided throughout this document and are identified in italic type, within parentheses, following the example. PLEASE DO NOT RE-ADJUST THESE MARGINS. Some components, such as multi-leveled equations, graphics, and tables are not prescribed, although the various table text styles are provided. The formatter will need to create these components, incorporating the applicable criteria that follow.

Computer Processing of Oriental Languages. Language Technology for the Knowledge-based Economy Wenjie Li, Diego Mollá-Aliod, 2009-03-27. The International Conference on the Computer Processing of Oriental Languages (ICCPOL) series is hosted by the Chinese and Oriental Languages Society (COLCS), an international society founded in 1975. Recent ICCPOL events have been held in Hong Kong (1997), Tokushima, Japan (1999), Seoul, Korea (2001), Shenyang, China (2003), and Singapore (2006). This volume presents the proceedings of the 22nd International Conference on the Computer Processing of Oriental Languages (ICCPOL 2009) held in Hong Kong, March 26-27, 2009. We received 63 submissions, and all the papers went through a blind review process by members of the Program Committee. After careful discussion, 25 of them were selected for oral presentation and 15 for poster presentation. The accepted papers covered a variety of topics in natural language processing and its applications, including word segmentation, phrase and term extraction, chunking, and parsing, semantic labelling, opinion mining, ontology construction, machine translation, information extraction, document summarization, and so on. On behalf of the Program Committee, we would like to thank all authors of submitted papers for their support. We wish to extend our appreciation to the Program Committee members and additional external reviewers for their tremendous effort and excellent reviews. We gratefully acknowledge the Organizing Committee and Publication Committee members for their generous contribution to the success of the conference. We also thank the Asian Federation of Natural Language Processing (AFNLP), the Department of Computing, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong; the Department of Systems Engineering and Engineering Management, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong; and the Centre for Language Technology, Macquarie University, Australia, for their valuable support.
