Experiencing International Business And Management Exercises Projects And Cases:

Experiencing International Business and Management Betty Jane Punnett, 2014-12-18 Revised and updated this popular book adds a real life dimension to courses in international business and management. It is designed for instructors who want to go beyond the facts and figures in standard textbooks and helps students learn how to interact with people in different cultures in the global business environment. The book begins with a description of the key role of experiential learning in the classroom along with a brief overview of key concepts in international business. The main part of the text consists of 25 hands on experiential exercises, 7 projects and 5 mini case studies all designed for in class use. This edition features updated data and information in many of the exercises, projects and cases and includes 5 completely new exercises and cases. For the first time the author has identified the exercises that work particularly well with students in off site locations. An Online Instructors Manual is available for adopters.

International Perspectives on Organizational Behavior and Human Resource Management Betty Jane Punnett, 2012-10-23 This new book focuses on the cross national environment that international firms face. It shows how this environment affects individual behavior, organizational behavior and human resource management. Clearly written and concise, the book sensitizes readers to the many differences that managers face when they operate cross nationally and gives them tools to understand and deal with these differences. Most books cover the cultural dimensions of international business quite well. This book goes a step further with in depth treatment of important variables in economic, political, historical and religious differences. The result is an exceptionally balanced and realistic view of the key factors in today's global business environment. It can be assigned to supplement a basic text in OB or HRM or it can be adopted as a brief core text in an International Management or OB course. It is suitable for both undergraduate and graduate levels.

Cross Cultural Competence Simon L. Dolan, Kristine Marin Kawamura, 2015-04-14 This book serves as a comprehensive practical and workshop based program that facilitates change agents to help organizations and people develop cross cultural skills and global competence. It is grounded in the most rigorous and relevant theories, research and learning methods and makes them easily accessible and fun to apply.

Digital Technology in Teaching International Business Erdener Kaynak, Lloyd Russow, 2024-11-15 Explore the potential and the pitfalls of digital technology in international business courses. Digital Technology in Teaching International Business will familiarize you with techniques that have proven effective in digitizing content or presenting traditional material in an untraditional way. You will learn how to introduce digital technologies into bricks and mortar classrooms and how to construct an effective online learning environment. This timely and informative book discusses computer mediated communication systems, shows how students can use the Internet to personally participate in international problem solving exercises, presents a fascinating case study of a CLD program designed to address educational values, communication competencies and business practices in former republics of the Soviet Union and much more. Digital Technology in Teaching International Business outlines the challenges and demands of the knowledge based economy and discusses the path that universities should follow in providing business students with the skills they need to succeed in this complex environment. It describes the implementation of Internet based experiential projects in an international business classroom setting and summarizes students' perceptions and attitudes toward their assignments. In addition, it shows how to adapt experiential exercises from live courses for electronic application and examines ways in which electronic media can increase the availability and reduce the cost of interactive programs that connect students from distant locations, complement or replace the traditional roles of textbooks and teachers, promote more interactive learning, enable faculty, students, scientists, technicians, entrepreneurs and NGO leaders in separate locations to collaborate effectively, help to overcome the developed country bias present in many business strategy courses via specially designed courses and simulations of emerging economies, aid in teaching financial reporting and the analysis of multinational enterprises, address the traditional tradeoffs between richness, depth of knowledge and reach, geographic area coverage.

Managing for Results Gillian Watson, Kevin Gallagher, 2005. The text is designed to cater for all students studying the CIPD Managing for Results module as part of the recently introduced Leadership and Management Standards as well as for students taking an introductory management module on a management business or HR degree programme.
