Worksheet

AgriBiotechnology
Research & Development

Interval 1
Segment 2

The objective of this experiment is to orient you with the basic protocol for performing electrophoresis. You will ultimately determine whether different molecules can be separated using agarose gel electrophoresis. You will follow the scientific method and take notes throughout this experiment that can be used when writing a comprehensive lab report at the end of this procedure.

Question/Problem

Can agarose gel electrophoresis be used to separate molecules of different size, shape, and charge?

Research

In some of the following segments, you will be learning some background information that is relevant to the electrophoretic theory.

Hypothesis

The hypothesis is an educated guess of what you think the outcome of the experiment will be. The hypothesis should be made AFTER you are finished with your research segments; otherwise, your guess will not be educated. State your hypothesis below.

Experiment

The experiment is the procedure or method you go through to answer the question and find out if the hypothesis is right or wrong. You must keep a detailed report of the procedure that you are instructed to follow.

Equipment and Materials

List all materials and equipment used during the experiment; this can be compiled as steps are completed.

Preparing the Gel Bed

Record the procedure you followed when preparing the gel bed.
