Islamic Development in Palestine Stephen Royle, 2016-10-04 This book assesses the capabilities of an Islamic approach in aiding self organisation by examining the case of the occupied Palestinian territories in conjunction with a comparative analysis of four other nations Three main mechanisms of Islamic development are explored finance microfinance and charity Identifying the need to recognise the non linear nature of societal interaction at the individual community and state levels the book uses complexity theory to better understand development It assesses the role of Islamic development at macro and micro levels and identifies issues with rigid and hierarchical policy making Geography for the IB Diploma

Global Interactions Paul Guinness, 2011-01-20 The coursebook contains Natural Resource Extraction and Indigenous Livelihoods Emma Gilberthorpe, Gavin Hilson, 2016-04-22 This book provides an extended analysis of how resource extraction projects stimulate social cultural and economic change in indigenous communities Through a range of case studies including open cast mining artisanal mining logging deforestation oil extraction and industrial fishing the contributors explore the challenges highlighted in global debates on sustainability Corporate Social Responsibility CSR and climate change The case studies are used to assess whether and how development processes might compete and conflict with the market objectives of multinational corporations and the organizational and moral principles of indigenous communities Emphasizing the perspectives of directly affected parties the authors identify common patterns in the way in which extraction projects are conceptualized implemented and perceived The book provides a deeper understanding of the dynamics of the human environments where resource extraction takes place and its consequent impacts on local livelihoods Its in depth case studies underscore the need for increased social accountability in the planning and development of natural resource extraction projects Location of International Business Activities Academy of International Business

., 2014-12-02 In recent years an extensive range of new research has been revisiting the topic of the location of international business activities from a variety of different perspectives and background interests This work has been inspired in part by two apparently quite different but actually related contemporary trends on the one hand an emergence or revitalization of clusters of activities co located in or around selected global city regions or fast growing metropolitan areas and on the other hand an increased global dispersion of activities conducted within the value chains managed or coordinated by many large multinational enterprises and their business partners The former trend has given rise to discussions of how the elite of the cultural cognitive economy of the 21st century in Allen Scott's terminology or the creative class Richard Florida's term are now being drawn or brought back to major urban centers while the latter trend is associated with debates over outsourcing and the economic and social consequences of shifts in the ownership and location of distinct nodes of value chains once production systems become more fragmented and the component parts of such systems become more geographically dispersed An increased interest in the subject of international business location has been shown by scholars in Strategic Management in Economic Geography and in Regional Science as well as in our own interdisciplinary field of International Business Studies However as is often the case in academic research communities these bodies of scholarship have tended to develop at something of a distance from one another each conversing internally more than they have with one another

Location of International Business Activities aims to promote a greater conversation between those interested in the topic of Location from various different backgrounds or starting points The articles are taken from a special issue on the theme of the Multinational in Geographic Space which was published by The Journal of International Business Studies in 2013

Global Muckraking Anya Schiffrin, 2014 Crusading journalists from Sinclair Lewis to Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein have played a central role in American politics checking abuses of power revealing corporate misdeeds and exposing government corruption Muckraking journalism is part and parcel of American democracy But how many people know about the role that muckraking has played around the world This groundbreaking new book presents the most important examples of world changing journalism spanning one hundred years and every continent Carefully curated by prominent international journalists working in Asia Africa Latin America Europe and the Middle East Global Muckraking includes Ken Saro Wiwa's defense of the Ogoni people in the Niger Horacio Verbitsky's uncovering of the gruesome disappearance of political detainees in Argentina Gareth Jones's coverage of the Ukraine famine of 1932-33 missionary newspapers coverage of Chinese foot binding in the nineteenth century Dwarkanath Ganguli's exposé of the British coolie trade in nineteenth century Assam India and many others Edited by the noted author and journalist Anya Schiffrin Global Muckraking is a sweeping introduction to international journalism that has galvanized the world's attention In an era when human rights are in the spotlight and the fate of newspapers hangs in the balance here is both a riveting read and a sweeping argument for why the world needs long form investigative reporting

Roberts, Charles Withers, 2014-05-22 Superb How refreshing to see a Handbook that eschews convention and explores the richness and diversity of the geographical imagination in such stimulating and challenging ways Peter Dicken University of Manchester Stands out as an innovative and exciting contribution that exceeds the genre Sallie A Marston University of Arizona Captures wonderfully the richness and complexity of the worlds that human beings inhabit This is a stand out among handbooks Lily Kong National University of Singapore This wonderfully unconventional book demonstrates human geography s character and significance not by marching through traditional themes but by presenting a set of geographical essays on basic ideas practices and concerns Alexander B Murphy University of Oregon This SAGE Handbook stands out for its capacity to provoke the reader to think anew about human geography essays that offer some profoundly original insights into what it means to engage geographically with the world Eric Sheppard UCLA Published in association with the journal Progress in Human Geography edited and written by the principal scholars in the discipline this Handbook demonstrates the difference that thinking about the world geographically makes Each section considers how human geography shapes the world interrogates it and intervenes in it It includes a major retrospective and prospective introductory essay with three substantive sections on Imagining Human Geographies Practising Human Geographies Living Human Geographies The Handbook also has an innovative multimedia component of conversations about key issues in human geography as well as an overview of human geography from the Editors A key reference for any scholar interested in questions about what difference it makes to think spatially or geographically about the world this Handbook is a rich and textured statement about the geographical imagination

From the Blue Ridge to the Coastal Plain; Field Excursions in the Southeastern United States Geological Society of America,2012

Labour and Economic Change in Southern Africa c.1900-2000 Rory Pillosof,Andrew Cohen,2021-06-03 This book explores the social and economic development of Zimbabwe Zambia and Malawi over the course of the twentieth century These three countries have long shared and interconnected pasts All three were drawn into the British Empire at a similar time and the formation of the ill fated Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland formally linked these countries together for a decade in the mid twentieth century This formal political relationship created dynamics that resulted in yet closer economic and social links After Federation the economic realities of industry transport and labour supplies meant that these three countries continued to be intricately interconnected Yet despite these connected pasts comparative work on the economic histories of Malawi Zambia and Zimbabwe and how these change over time is rare This book addresses the gap by providing the first comprehensive collection of labour and census data across the twentieth century for these three countries The different economic models and performances of these states offer good comparison allowing researchers to look at different models of development and how these played out over the long term The book provides data on population growth and change industrial and occupational structure and the various shifts in what the economically active population did It will be useful for historians economists development studies scholars and non governmental organisations working on twentieth century and contemporary southern Africa

Fabricating Lureland Julia Winckler,2021-12-06 Through the analysis of surviving archival traces this book constructs a history of the imagination and memory of the town of Peacehaven Built as a speculative development atop iconic chalk cliffs on the Sussex Coast and marketed as a garden city by the sea the estate quickly attracted adverse publicity Influential voices such as the Bloomsbury group s Virginia and Leonard Woolf architect and writer Clough Williams Ellis and the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England soon began to criticise it as a blot on the rolling pastoral downland Instead of reading and appraising Peacehaven s story in a polarized way this book breaks new ground by critically interpreting visual representations and commissioned photographs of the Estate and re evaluating propositions from its inception which aspired to secure improved public health and home ownership in direct response to the negative impact of industrialization and WWI Focusing on the interwar period and tracing mutating agendas the book investigates contested marketing and construction narratives through Histoire Crois e methodology and its intercrossings with memory and the imagination By combining visual and creative research methods with oral history multi layered narratives of place come into focus The study tracks the visual programme of the developer s in house magazine Peacehaven Post alongside previously underexplored blueprints photographs postcards and promotional guidebooks and considers the garden city narrative as a form of social Utopia Garden city ideals are once again evoked in debates as a potential solution to the ongoing national housing shortage giving this research additional urgency as new large scale redevelopment erases many of the few and fast disappearing original landmarks

The World-Literary System and the Atlantic Sorcha Gunne,Neil Lazarus,2020-12-30 The World Literary System and the Atlantic grapples with key questions about how American studies and the Atlantic region in general engages with new considerations of literary comparativism international literary space and the world literary system The edited collection furthers these discussions by placing them into a relationship with the theory of combined and uneven development a theory that has a long pedigree in Marxist sociology and political economy and that continues to stimulate debate across the social sciences but whose implications for culture have received less attention Drawing on the comparative modes concepts and methods being developed in the new world literary studies the essays cover a diverse range of topics such as the periodization of world literature racism and the world system singular modernity critical irrationalism commodity frontiers semi peripherality and world ecology The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Atlantic Studies

Transboundary Water Management and the Climate Change Debate Anton Earle,Ana Elisa Cascao,Stina Hansson,Anders Jägerskog,Ashok Swain,Joakim Öjendal,2015-05-26 Climate change has an impact on the ability of transboundary water management institutions to deliver on their respective mandates The starting point for this book is that actors within transboundary water management institutions develop responses to the climate change debate as distinct from the physical phenomenon of climate change Actors respond to this debate broadly in three distinct ways adapt resist as in avoiding the issue and subvert as in using the debate to fulfil their own agenda The book charts approaches which have been taken over the past two decades to promote more effective water management institutions covering issues of conflict cooperation power and law A new framework for a better understanding of the interaction between transboundary water management institutional resilience and global change is developed through analysis of the way these institutions respond to the climate change debate This framework is applied to six river case studies from Africa Asia and the Middle East Ganges Brahmaputra Jordan Mekong Niger Nile Orange Senqu from which learning conclusions and policy recommendations are developed Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism Mark Beeson, Richard Stubbs, 2012-03-15 The Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism is a definitive introduction to and analysis of the development of regionalism in Asia including coverage of East Asia Southeast Asia and South Asia The contributors engage in a comprehensive exploration of what is arguably the most dynamic and important region in the world Significantly this volume addresses the multiple manifestations of regionalism in Asia and is consequently organised thematically under the headings of conceptualizing the region economic issues political issues strategic issues regional organizations As such the Handbook presents some of the key elements of the competing interpretations of this important and highly contested topic giving the reader a chance to evaluate not just where Asian regionalism is going but also how the scholarship on Asian regionalism is analysing these trends and events This book will be an indispensable resource for students and scholars of Asian politics international relations and regionalism Building Migrant Cities in the Gulf Florian Wiedmann, Ashraf M. Salama, 2019-07-25 Human history has seen many settlements transformed or built entirely by expatriate work forces and foreigners arriving from various places Recent migration patterns in the Gulf have led to emerging airport societies on unprecedented scales Most guest workers both labourers and mid to high income groups perceive their stay as a temporary opportunity to earn suitable income or gain experience This timely book analyses the essential characteristics of this unique urban phenomenon substantiated by concrete examples and empirical research Both authors have lived and worked in the Gulf including Qatar Bahrain and the United Arab Emirates during various periods between 2006 and 2014 They explore Gulf cities from macro and interconnected perspectives rather than focusing solely on singular aspects within the built environment As academic architects specialised in urbanism and the complex dynamics between people and places the authors build new bridges for understanding demographic and social changes impacting urban transformations in the Gulf
