Music Therapy in Geriatrics, volume II Suzanne B. Hanser, Concetta Maria Tomaino, Amy Clements-Cortes, Melissa Mercadal-Brotons, 2024-03-07 This Research Topic is the second volume of Music Therapy in Geriatrics Please find the first Edition here Demographic projections estimate that by 2050 the number of people aged 65 and older in the world will soar to 1.5 billion approximately one third of the total population Medical and technological advances have certainly contributed to enhanced longevity However with advanced age there is a concomitant elevation in the prevalence of chronic diseases The Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion in the U S found that in 2012 60% of older adults reported at least two of the following conditions Cancer heart disease emphysema or chronic bronchitis stroke diabetes mellitus and Alzheimer s disease These diagnoses carry the extensive costs and burdens of serious illnesses and also mean that family caregivers of loved ones with these conditions experience significant challenges placing them at extreme risk for a variety of stress related illnesses and afflictions and accounting for high rates of morbidity and mortality Handbook of Evidence-Based Practices in Autism Spectrum Disorder Brian Reichow, Peter Doehring, Fred R. Volkmar, 2025-02-17 The handbook examines the empirical status of interventions and treatments for individuals with autism spectrum disorder ASD It offers an insightful and balanced perspective on topics ranging from the historical underpinnings of autism treatment to the use of psychopharmacology and the implementation of EBPs The book reviews the conceptualization of evidence based practices EBPs as well as considerations for implementing such practices across settings In addition it describes emerging treatments though they cannot yet be considered evidence based that have produced limited but highly promising results The book also describes treatments and therapies that have been proved ineffective It explores ways in which EBPs can be applied in inclusive school settings pediatric settings in patient treatment programs and college based programs for transition aged youth The volume describes outcomes from the development of EBP guidelines at the national level in Scotland and more broadly in the United States and outlines how such guidelines can be adapted to offer more individualized intervention Key areas of coverage include Comprehensive treatment models including early intensive behavioral intervention pivotal response treatment Early Start Denver Model and Naturalistic Developmental Behavioral Interventions Focal treatments addressing the core deficits of ASD and its co occurring conditions Social skills communication and the use of applied behavior analysis ABA practices for teaching new skills and decreasing challenging behaviors Sensory based interventions psychopharmacology cognitive behavior therapy and parent education programs e g Project ImPACT The Handbook of Evidence Based Practices in Autism Spectrum Disorder is an invaluable resource for researchers professors and graduate students as well as clinicians therapists and all professionals working in the fields of developmental clinical child and school psychology pediatrics social work behavior analysis allied health sciences public health child and adolescent psychiatry early childhood intervention and general and special education Handbook of Research on Teaching With Virtual

Environments and AI Panconesi, Gianni, Guida, Maria, 2021-02-19 The increasingly pervasive use of digital technology has catapulted society into an interconnected world where the natural boundaries between humankind and machine virtual and real individual and community have become less perceptible As individuals interact with different digital technologies they must build a digital intelligence which must be further cultivated as it is a key competency for the future of school and work Digital intelligence includes understanding the mutual strengths between people and technology as well as developing an awareness in the use of digital tools in order to avoid common threats such as cyberbullying addiction to video games techno stress and more As adolescents continue to engage with virtual reality and 3D virtual worlds where the online and offline overlap and coincide it is important to build this intelligence as well as utilize these technologies to promote successful learning The Handbook of Research on Teaching With Virtual Environments and AI explores the new personalized educational opportunities that are available with digital technology and virtual environments that can be used within education This book focuses on the use of these tools and how to navigate the use of new technologies such as AI and virtual environments for educational practices While highlighting topics such as virtual worlds game based learning intelligent tutoring augmented reality and more this book is ideal for teachers administrators technologists educational software developers IT specialists practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how virtual environments and AI are being implemented in teaching practices

Being Autistic is Not a Behavior Problem Daniel B. LeGoff, 2023-04-15

Applied behavior analysis ABA has become a widely used form of therapy for autistic children without its theories and methods being well understood This critical analysis of the theories and research on which ABA bases its claim to being an evidence based treatment is a must read for everyone who has a stake in the lives of autistic individuals This book reviews the literature which shows that ABA is not based on scientific research and that practitioners of ABA are not required to be trained in child psychology pediatrics child development education family therapy language development or scientific research ABA is not based on any form of developmental science but primarily on the works of B F Skinner whose ideas were first published over seventy years ago This philosophical viewpoint radical behaviorism holds that individual experiences are irrelevant to behavior change because the determining factors of our actions are in the environment the rewards and punishments that result from those actions This in depth analysis of the theories and research of ABA leads to the conclusion that ABA is not an applied science nor does it promote values consistent with current models of child development and education Other promising methods based on modern science including parent directed early infancy pre emptive strategies and peer based LEGO Clubs also discussed here are often overshadowed by the media coverage and marketing strategies of ABA based autism services despite these messages being overstated and misleading Simply put the public trust and investment in ABA services needs to be reviewed in greater detail and with greater skepticism The pseudoscientific concepts described by behavior analysts sound convincing to many but upon closer examination amount to little more than what most educators and parents typically do already and at the same time involve costly and invasive services with little or no evidence of meaningful benefit Some natural strategies such as peer mentoring and caregiver training do help autistic children and their families to adapt to mainstream settings the persistent promise of evidence based autism treatment has generated an expanding market for ABA services which actually interferes with typical social development Modern views of child development social and cultural adaptability play and education emphasize integration of individuals and their sociocultural environments Less costly proactive and non invasive approaches to improving social adaptability and quality of life for autistic children and their caregivers are currently available but unlike ABA based services they are not widely promoted in the public media or offered directly to families by thousands of newly certified providers A science based and holistic understanding of the life experiences of autistic individuals recognizes the importance of sociocultural adjustment and long term quality of life not behavioral compliance in adult controlled settings even when those settings are described as naturalistic Radical behaviorism was not and will never be compatible with developmental models which view development as a reciprocal and dynamic synergistic process not the outcome of a successful behavior plan It is important for those who care about diversity in society to promote the creative contributions of individuals with diverse life experiences and to stop thinking about being different as a behavior problem School-Based Play Therapy Athena A. Drewes, Charles E.

Schaefer, 2010-01-21 A thorough revision of the essential guide to using play therapy in schools Fully updated and revised School Based Play Therapy Second Edition presents an A to Z guide for using play therapy in preschool and elementary school settings Coedited by noted experts in the field Athena Drewes and Charles Schaefer the Second Edition offers school counselors psychologists social workers and teachers the latest techniques in developing creative approaches to utilize the therapeutic powers of play in schools The Second Edition includes coverage on how to implement a play therapy program in school settings play based prevention programs individual play therapy approaches as well as group play and play therapy with special populations such as selectively mute homeless and autistic children In addition nine new chapters have been added with new material covering Cognitive behavioral play therapy Trauma focused group work Training teachers to use play therapy Filled with illustrative case studies and ready to use practical techniques and suggestions School Based Play Therapy Second Edition is an essential resource for all mental health professionals working in schools Crash Course in
