Cultural Diplomacy: Beyond the National Interest? Ien Ang, Yudhishtir Isar, Phillip Mar, 2018-02-02 Cultural Diplomacy Beyond the National Interest is the first book bringing together from the perspective of the cultural disciplines scholarship that locates contemporary cultural diplomacy practices within their social political and ideological contexts while examining the different forces that drive them The contributions to this book have two methodologies the first to deconstruct and demystify cultural diplomacy notably the hype that accompanies it especially when it is yoked to the notion of soft power the second to better understand how contemporary cultural diplomacy actually operates In applying a cultural lens to the question this book probes whether there can be such a thing as a cultural diplomacy beyond the national interest This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Cultural Policy

Islamic State Michael Griffin, 2015-10-20 This book takes the long view by analysing Islamic State's beginnings in Iraq to their involvement in the Arab Spring and through to the present day The world is watching IS's advance through the Middle East The US risks being drawn into another war in the region despite its experiences in Afghanistan and Iraq IS are creating catastrophic waves across the region but it is still unclear what lies behind its success Michael Griffin uncovers the nature of IS through investigating the myriad of regional players engaged in a seemingly endless power game Saudi Arabia Qatar Turkey and Iraq which have all contributed to the success of IS by supplying arms and funds He foregrounds the story of the uprising against President Assad of Syria the role played by the Free Syrian Army Islamist groups Iran Hezbollah and Russia the chemical weapons attacks in 2013 and the House of Commons vote not to impose a no fly zone over the country

Dynamics of Transformation, Elite Change and New Social Mobilization Muriel Asseburg, Heiko Wimmen, 2018-02-02 The political transformations initiated by the so called Arab Spring in Egypt Libya Tunisia and Yemen have been marked by strong political contention continued social mobilization and albeit to different degrees weak central state institutions This book proposes that rather than agreed roadmaps of institutional change e.g. elections drawing up new constitutions and centrally crafted transition processes it has been the competition of key political actors for resources of political power and control that has set the pace and influenced the direction and depth of the transformation processes Hence the contributions in this volume use an actor centred approach Two perspectives are assumed first key political actors referring to the Politically Relevant Elite PRE are identified and their motivations as well as their strategies and capacities to steer the transformation process Secondly the authors investigate the capacity of politically Mobilized Publics to exert influence on agenda setting and decision making ask to what extent popular and social movements have emerged as political actors in their own right and to what extent such forms of bottom up participation have constituted a fundamental change to the political culture of these countries Both avenues of inquiry analyze how the elites are constrained by continued social mobilization how they engage with mobilized publics to promote their own agendas and whether the extended scope of popular participation contributes to the legitimacy and stability of the emerging political orders or causes disruption fragmentation and conflict This book was previously published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics Moving the AEC Beyond 2015 Tham Siew Yean, 2018-02-14 The ten Southeast Asian economies reached a milestone on 31 December 2015 when they announced the formation of an ASEAN Community Although this includes three pillars ASEAN Political Security Community ASEAN Economic Community AEC and the ASEAN Socio Cultural Community it is the economic pillar that generates immense debate due to its expected quantifiable benefits to member countries This book thus focuses on the ASEAN Economic Community and seeks to explain the need for building domestic consensus within the member countries It starts with an overview chapter describing the current achievements of the AEC It then explores possible explanations for the achievements non achievements and offers a hypothesis on conflicting economic interests in a country as one possible explanation for gaps in implementation This is because any form of economic liberalisation brings with it the winners and losers thereby raising resistance to liberalization measures and slowing down the implementation process The book includes six country chapters Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam that examine sources of domestic conflict s in greater detail and depth It also includes a regional chapter co authored by the ex Secretary General of ASEAN Mr Rodolfo Severino that brings out the political nature of ASEAN economic cooperation since its inception in 1976 For ASEAN beyond 2015 the book articulates the need to obtain a strong domestic consensus that supports the integration initiatives of the AEC This can be viewed as a way forward to accelerate and deepen integration within ASEAN The book concludes with some suggestions on how each country can move towards achieving domestic consensus based on the respective country level analysis

The Moral Economy of Welfare and Migration Lydia Morris, 2021-08-15

Britain's coalition government of 2010-2015 ushered in an enduring age of austerity and a moral mission of welfare reform as part of a drive for deficit reduction. Stricter controls were applied to both domestic welfare and international migration and asylum which were presented as two sides of the same coin. Policy in both areas has engaged a moral message of earned entitlement and invites a sociological approach that examines such policies in combination alongside their underpinning moral economy. Exploring the idea of a moral economy from its original focus on popular rebellion at the rising price of corn to more contemporary analysis of measures that seek to impose moral values from above, Lydia Morris examines Britain's reconfigured pattern of rights in the fields of domestic welfare and migration. Those in power have claimed that heightened conditions and sanctions for the benefit-dependent domestic population both in and out of work will promote labour market change and reduce demand for low-skilled migrant workers often EU citizens whose own access to benefits was curtailed prior to Brexit. Morris traces related political discourse through to the design and implementation of concrete policy measures and maps the diminished access to rights that has emerged, paying particular attention to the boundaries drawn in defining target groups and the resistance this has provoked. The Moral Economy of Welfare and Migration considers the topology of the whole system to highlight cross-cutting devices of control that have far-reaching implications for how we are governed as a total population.

Self-determination in Health Care Leroy C. Edozien, 2016-03-03 It is generally accepted in legal and bioethical discourse that the patient has a right to self determination In practice though this is often not the case Paternalism is waning and it is increasingly recognised that there are values other than medical factors which determine the choices that patients make Unfortunately these developments have not resulted in huge advances for patient self determination which is largely because the consent model has fundamental flaws that constrain its effectiveness This book sets out to offer an alternative model to consent In the property model proposed here the patient s bodily integrity is protected from unauthorised invasion and their legitimate expectation to be provided with the relevant information to make an informed decision is taken to be a proprietary right It is argued that the property model potentially overcomes the limitations of the consent model including the obstacle caused by the requirement to prove causation in consent cases The author proposes that this model could in the future provide an alternative or complementary approach for the courts to consider when dealing with cases relating to self determination in health care Child, Adolescent and Woman Nutrition in India Sheila C.
