Li, 2017-01-12 This volume gives an up to date account of the language situation and social context in multilingual Hong Kong. Economic forces and sociopolitical realities helped shape the mother tongue education or dual MoI streaming policy since September 1998. Another MoI debate concerns the feasibility and desirability of teaching Chinese in Putonghua TCP. Based on a critical review of the TCP literature and recent psycholinguistic and neuroscience research the language in education policy implications are discussed followed by a few recommendations. Hongkongers of South Asian descent saw their life chances curtailed as a result of the post 1997 changes in the language requirements for gaining access to civil service positions and higher education.
