2014 International Conference on Advanced Education and Management (ICAEM2014), 2014-02-13 The ICAEM2014 aims to bring together researchers educators and students from around the world in both industry and academia for sharing the state of art research results and applications for exploring new areas of research and development and for discussing emerging issues on education and management fields We received a total of 312 submissions from various parts of the world The Technical Program Committee worked very hard to have all papers reviewed before the review deadline The final technical program consists of 92 papers There are one keynote speech and 2 invited sessions The proceedings were published by DEStech Publications Inc and will submitted to Ei Compendex databases for indexing We would like to mention that due to the limitation of the conference venue capacity we are not able to include many fine papers in the technical program Our apology goes to those authors

The Economics of Equity in K-12 Education Goldy Brown III, Christos A. Makridis, 2023-02-07 Despite decades of increased state and federal funding for education student outcomes have largely deteriorated according to the 2022 NAEP exam results reading and math capabilities hit a thirty year low The emerging workforce is less prepared to handle the increasingly complex demands of the future which is likely to accelerate income inequality and stifle our nation s economic and social competitiveness Presenting the latest research on the economics of K 12 education this book makes recommendations about specific educational programming that have shown potential in increasing student outcomes for all learners focusing on human capital and practical recommendations for state and local policy makers and educational leaders

Managing Financial Risks Amid China's Economic Slowdown Yang Li, 2019-10-01 The book is based on the research concerning China s National Balance Sheet NBS which is conducted by NIFD the unique research groups in China focusing on NBS The relative data have been quoted by the IMF Chinese government sectors influential investment banks at home and abroad This book offers readers a unique edited work that systematically presents solutions to manage financial risk in the context of the current situation in China

Economic Foundations of Education Álvaro Choi, 2023-03-23 This volume introduces the economics as a foundational discipline in education It provides economists and non economists with an accessible grounding in the key concepts and recent developments in the field The book deals with such themes as human capital theory and its alternatives the monetary and non monetary benefits of education the education production function equity in education and the evaluation of education policies In this volume students researchers and policymakers will find an entry point into the way economists think about educational questions and readers will deepen their understanding of the field with state of the art reviews of the main topics that are at the heart of the economist of education today About the Educational Foundations series Education as an academic field taught at universities around the world emerged from a range of older foundational disciplines The Educational Foundations series comprises six volumes each covering one of the foundational disciplines of philosophy history sociology policy studies economics and law This is the first reference work to provide an authoritative and up to date account of all six disciplines showing how each field s ideas methods theories and approaches can contribute to research and practice in education today The six volumes cover the same set of key topics within education which also form the chapter titles Mapping the Field Purposes of Education Curriculum Schools and Education Systems Learning and Human Development Teaching and Teacher Education Assessment and Evaluation This structure allows readers to study the volumes in isolation by discipline or laterally by topic and facilitates a comparative thematic reading of chapters across the volumes Throughout the series attention is paid to how the disciplines comprising the educational foundations speak to social justice concerns such as gender and racial equality

Utilisation of Excess Heat Towards a Circular Economy Sofia Päivärinne, 2017-11-23 In order to significantly lower the environmental impact from human activities numerous efforts and approaches related to the transformation of human activities have developed during the last decades Examples of such efforts are policies and strategies at different levels some with a top down approach focusing on extensive institutional changes and some with a bottom up approach focusing on industrial actors and industry led activities One essential aspect of these efforts concerns the energy used producing the products and services provided within our society This includes for example improved efficiency of processes in order to minimise the amount of energy used or optimisation of efficiency by using energy with the lowest possible exergy value It can also be about re use of energy which is the focus of this thesis Heat which is the main by product of all energy systems can be utilised for heating purposes to lower the primary energy demand for heating Increased utilisation of excess heat however requires collaboration between normally unrelated actors those with a supply of and those demanding excess heat In Sweden which is a Northern European country with high demand for heat the tradition of large energy intensive manufacturing industries generating large amounts of excess heat in combination with well established district heating distribution systems constitute good conditions for excess heat utilisation Despite the fact that Sweden is among the world leaders in utilising excess heat there is however still a large unutilised potential From this background the objective of this thesis is to identify challenges behind excess heat utilisation for heating purposes and to propose practical suggestions to facilitate expanded excess heat utilisation The overall objective is analysed with a focus on drivers and barriers behind interorganisational collaborations on excess heat utilisation important components of interorganisational business models and how the technical conditions regarding supply and demand could be facilitated by strategic municipal spatial planning processes The research is largely based on interviews conducted with societal actors with different perspectives on excess heat utilisation energy companies industries generating high grade excess heat facilities generating low grade excess heat facilities demanding low grade excess heat experts of utilisation of low grade excess heat branch organisations municipal spatial planners energy and climate advisors and developers Document studies have been conducted in order to collect case specific knowledge The research questions are explored based on literature studies on the principles of industrial symbiosis business model perspective and strategic planning Further they are examined in a Swedish context It is concluded that the three perspectives complement each other by providing a system perspective on increased utilisation of excess heat as they seek to contribute both environmental and financial benefits at both a company and societal level In order to facilitate further utilisation of excess heat it is important to focus on the organisational factors of humility honesty transparency trust fine grained information transfer joint problem solving and shared visions of common goals which are important conditions behind development of functional and long term durable collaborations Business models for collaboration could contribute to the creation of these organisationally important conditions Such business models could also provide knowledge on how to create and capture joint values For some collaborations involving actors lacking the technical knowledge related to the capturing and distribution of excess heat a third party providing services related to the technical knowledge required could be beneficial Collaborations in which one of the actors consists of an energy company often entail the technical knowledge required This implies that different collaborations involving different types of actors and under different prevailing financial technical and organisational conditions require customised and flexible business solutions Local authorities could through their overall function initiate interorganisational collaborations on excess heat within the framework of municipal spatial planning The results do however show that the investigated planning processes could develop more extensive stakeholder participation to include further societal actors related to excess heat More extensive stakeholder participation have the potential to initiate new development of collaborations on excess heat between normally unrelated actors both with and without involvements of third party knowledge brokers A broader participation is also expected to result in increased knowledge on how to plan to further facilitate the condition of excess heat utilisation
