

"A leader has to create hope – a promise to bring about a better future for the organisation. Everyone should be able to see the value in and catch a part of it. This creates something that will inspire and attract to a new agenda that is beyond the numbers or immediate and is focused on the people."

H. H. Rajagopal Pillay
Chairman and CEO, Indraprastha

Enhancing Trust

This past year has seen a sharp decline in several things we considered infallible. Once trusted financial institutions have fallen from their pedestals, stock markets and financial indices attest that the world today suffers its gravest and deepest loss and there has been an erosion of the very factor that makes the world tick, trust.

Indraprastha, trust as its greatest asset and believes that it is the most precious tool in building faith and deepening alliances our stakeholders. These stakeholders – customers, employees, shareholders, social beneficiaries and vendor partners – keep their faith in us because of our unique value system and commitment to transparency and that we do. In the pages that follow, some of these stakeholders talk about their relationships with Indraprastha and what trust in the Company Trust has been taken a long time to build and which we continue to enhance each day. These are not just testimonials, but articles of faith.

posturing can be grounded upon gaining competitive advantage through mapping economic profits Existing studies on competitive advantage primarily discuss the meaning definitions and sources thereof However there are few contributions that discuss how competitive advantage can be measured specifically with respect to Indian companies This book bridges that gap and advocates that the EVA can be used to measure and establish the competitive advantage for Indian firms It is based upon an in depth study of such companies to explore the extent of use of EVA in the top BT500 companies in India It shows that the companies that use EVA have a distinct competitive advantage over their competitors EJISE Volume 14 Issue 2 , International Business Ethics Stephan Rothlin,Dennis McCann,2015-07-29 This book addresses an essential need felt by many who seek to promote best business practices in China and East Asia namely the need for culturally appropriate instructional materials basic information case studies and ethical perspectives that will allow managers and entrepreneurs to understand and embrace the challenge of moral leadership in business In an era characterized by globalization and the increasing importance of the economies of China India Japan and SE Asia international business ethics must reflect the concerns of the people living and working in this area the moral and spiritual traditions that have nurtured them and their specific contributions to sustainable development This book presents twenty important case studies taken from newsworthy events of the past few years in which Asians and others have attempted to respond to this challenge Each case study has been selected and shaped in order to highlight various aspects of doing business in Asia starting with basic principles and moving on to the specific responsibilities that businesses have towards their various stakeholders The authors contend that the best way to appreciate the relevance of Asian moral and spiritual traditions is to determine their specific contribution to virtue ethics where the ancient traditions of both East and West converge in their focus on the qualities of moral leadership that form the basis of best business practice Exploring the case studies will enable readers to appreciate the continued relevance of these ethical perspectives in Asian business Best business practice clearly involves learning to do business and playing the game according to the rules but the necessity of playing by the rules is not likely to become clear until one takes up the path that leads to a virtuous life in business developing a moral character chiefly based on integrity

RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION PRACTICES OF IT COMPANIES IN ANDHRA PRADESH - A STUDY OF SELECT UNITS Dr. Ravi Kumar Gummadi,2015-09-01 A highly successful organisation is built on the strengths of exceptional people No matter how much technology and mechanisation is developed no organisation could survive and prosper without them Luszez and Kleiner 2001 The most important corporate resource over the next few years will be talent smart sophisticated business people who are technologically literate globally astute and operationally agile And even as the demand for talent goes up the supply of it will be going down This seems to particularly hold true in case of the IT ITES Information Technology and Information Technology Enabled Services industry in India which requires high quality and highly skilled labour force to cater to the rapidly increasing global demand for software services but is currently facing an increasing shortage of skills supply

Moreover due to shortages of skilled workers high turnover rates and rapid business growth in the service sectors it has been noted that recruiting selecting and placing applicants are among the top three priorities of human resource professionals Since the IT industry in India is faced with these three challenges recruitment and selection comprises an important human resource practice in this industry Further in this industry human resources comprise both the raw material and the technology and are therefore of prime importance As India completes the transition from being an agrarian economy to being a full fledged first world economy operating at the leading edge of contemporary technology the IT sector is emerging as major driver of the economy The Indian IT industry comprises of domestic software and services firms as well as foreign firms looking to consolidate their presence in India owing to the increasing cost pressures in US and Europe This has increased the need to setup in house development centers or outsource to third party service providers in low cost countries such as India IT and IT enabled services include a wide range of services from back office data entry and processing to customer contact services corporate support functions knowledge support functions and research and design activities As per the latest Forbes Research India now controls 44 per cent of the global offshore outsourcing market for software and back office services As per Nasscom estimates it is projected to grow to 51 per cent If this growth is sustained Nasscom has estimated that there will be a potential shortfall of above 2 10 000 IT and ITES professionals in India by the year 2012 and demand will out pace the supply Though the Indian IT industry is in a strong position to leverage this global software opportunity as India currently has one of the world s largest most qualified pools of scientific and engineering manpower this growing global demand is not only for numbers but also for appropriately skilled industry oriented professionals as companies are further scaling their operations and offering high value added services which involve higher levels of technology and more specialized higher end services Hence firms which want to maintain their competitive advantage have to carefully recruit and select the most suitable out of the large pool of available manpower Moreover according to a recent study by McKinsey Co although the potential supply of talent in low wage countries such as India is large and growing rapidly only a fraction of the job candidates could successfully work at a foreign company on account of their limited suitability i e though there are many candidates with the technical skills to fill a position they may not have the cultural skills to fit in with the organisation The same issue is also faced by large globally competitive domestic Indian firms who are competing for the same pool of talent and skills as their foreign counterparts to remain competitive and survive in global and domestic markets
