Infrastructural Lives Urban Infrastructure In Context:

Infrastructural Lives Stephen Graham, Colin McFarlane, 2014-10-10 Infrastructural Lives is the first book to describe the everyday experience and politics of urban infrastructures. It focuses on a range of infrastructures in both the global South and North. The book examines how day to day experience and perception of infrastructure provides a new and powerful lens to view urban sustainability politics, economics, cultures, and ecologies. An interdisciplinary group of leading and emerging urban researchers examine critical questions about urban infrastructure in different global contexts. The chapters address water, sanitation, and waste politics in Mumbai, Kampala, and Tyneside; analyse the use of infrastructure in the dispossession of Palestinian communities; explore the pacification of Rio's favelas in the run up to the 2014 World Cup; describe how people's bodies and lives effectively operate as infrastructure in many major cities; and also explores tentative experiments with low carbon infrastructures. These diverse cases and perspectives are connected by a shared sense of infrastructure not just as a thing, a system, or an output, but as a complex social and technological process that enables or disables particular kinds of action in the city. Infrastructural Lives is crucial reading for academics, researchers, students, and practitioners in urban studies globally.

Urban Infrastructure Remo Dalla Longa, 2023-03-01 The book deals with the concept of urban infrastructure and the strong evolution of globalization, in particular the driving force taken by global cities. Urban infrastructure is a constituent part of the global cities, both have a synergistic evolution. The main reference is to western global cities in the intertwining of financialization, settling, and brownfield, which is a little different from the urbanization of other global cities of other non developed countries or emerging countries. There is therefore a significant link between globalization and urban infrastructure. The occurrence of slowbalization can have consequences on urban areas, infrastructures, and more generally on the different dichotomy between global city and nation. With the pandemic, infectious, and the post COVID, there is already a different configuration between the global city and the rest of the national territory. A driving element of the urban infrastructure and the global city has been the financialization and identification of assets within global cities. Urban infrastructure as an asset has grown considerably in the last two decades in the wake of what has already been highlighted previously for real estate. There are contiguous issues that affect the concept of urban infrastructures, and they are the enormous growth of finance and the landings of this in the great cities of the world with investments that first involved Real Estate and then urban infrastructures. There has also been a technological revolution that has merged the ubiquitous technological infrastructure with other more traditional components of the infrastructure, even apparently recent themes such as smart cities come from this evolutionary trend and merge with urban infrastructures. The theme of smart cities, if properly interpreted, gives strength to the concept of urban infrastructure.

Infrastructures and Social Complexity Penelope Harvey, Casper Bruun Jensen, Atsuro Morita, 2016-10-04 Contemporary forms of infrastructural development herald alternative futures through their incorporation of digital technologies, mobile capital, international politics and the promises and fears of enhanced connectivity In tandem with increasing concerns about climate change and the anthropocene there is further an urgency around contemporary infrastructural provision a concern about its fragility and an awareness that these connective relational systems significantly shape both local and planetary futures in ways that we need to understand more clearly Offering a rich set of empirically detailed and conceptually sophisticated studies of infrastructural systems and experiments present and past contributors to this volume address both the transformative potential of infrastructural systems and their stasis Covering infrastructural figures their ontologies epistemologies classifications and politics and spanning development urban energy environmental and information infrastructures the chapters explore both the promises and failures of infrastructure Tracing the experimental histories of a wide range of infrastructures and documenting their variable outcomes the volume offers a unique set of analytical perspectives on contemporary infrastructural complications These studies bring a systematic empirical and analytical attention to human worlds as they intersect with more than human worlds whether technological or biological

Handbook of Infrastructures and Cities Olivier Coutard, Daniel Florentin, 2024-04-12 Contributing towards a thriving research area this comprehensive Handbook presents a broad discussion of infrastructure as social phenomena It compiles diverse perspectives to delineate the current infrastructural turn and assess policy and research challenges relating to contemporary forms of infrastructural development

Volume 1: Community and Society Brian Doucet, Rianne van Melik, Pierre Filion, 2021-07-22 Contributions to this volume engage directly with different urban communities around the world They give voice to those who experience poverty discrimination and marginalisation in order to put them in the front and centre of planning policy and political debates that make and shape cities

Thinking Infrastructures Martin Kornberger, Geoffrey C. Bowker, Julia Elyachar, Andrea Mennicken, Peter Miller, Joanne Randa Nucho, Neil Pollock, 2019-08-08 Thinking Infrastructures brings together interdisciplinary research on informational infrastructures to show how thinking thought and cognition as in ideas rationalities and the practice activity of thinking are inseparable from infrastructures

Problem Spaces Celia Lury, 2021-01-20 In this innovative book Celia Lury argues that the time has come for us to explore the world not only with new methods but with a new approach to methodology itself Fundamental changes are taking place in how we produce knowledge how we communicate it and indeed what we consider to be knowledge These changes demand innovative and creative responses to research questions Lury's rethinking of the nature of social inquiry starts by reconceptualizing the problem space Problems are not static or a given rather they are created and continually recomposed as part of the methodological process itself Following the line of thought that methods are practices that articulate as much as capture a social problem Lury further develops the notion of compositional methodology to think through its implications With remarkable fluency the book draws into conversation a range of hot button issues both longstanding and novel from observation reflexivity recursive measurement and feminist methodologies to participation context datafication and platformization Always with an eye to the methodological potential of new trends the book provides a strong challenge to much received wisdom and argues that a combination of techniques can contribute to better understanding of the problem spaces we all inhabit

The Promise of Infrastructure Nikhil Anand,Akhil Gupta,Hannah Appel,2018-07-16 From U S Mexico border walls to Flint s poisoned pipes there is a new urgency to the politics of infrastructure Roads electricity lines water pipes and oil installations promise to distribute the resources necessary for everyday life Yet an attention to their ongoing processes also reveals how infrastructures are made with fragile and often violent relations among people materials and institutions While infrastructures promise modernity and development their breakdowns and absences reveal the underbelly of progress liberal equality and economic growth This tension between aspiration and failure makes infrastructure a productive location for social theory Contributing to the everyday lives of infrastructure across four continents some of the leading anthropologists of infrastructure demonstrate in The Promise of Infrastructure how these more than human assemblages made over more than human lifetimes offer new opportunities to theorize time politics and promise in the contemporary moment A School for Advanced Research Advanced Seminar Contributors Nikhil Anand Hannah Appel Geoffrey C Bowker Dominic Boyer Akhil Gupta Penny Harvey Brian Larkin Christina Schwenkel Antina von Schnitzler

Rethinking Urbanism Myers, Garth,2020-06-03 This book provides new insights into popular understandings of urbanism by using a wide range of case studies from lesser studied cities across the Global South and Global North to present evidence for the need to reconstruct our understanding of who and what makes urban environments Myers explores the global hierarchy of cities the criteria for positioning within these hierarchies and the successes of various policymaking approaches designed specifically to boost a city s ranking Engaging heavily with postcolonial studies and Global South thinking he shows how cities construct one another s spaces and calls for a new understanding of planetary urbanism that moves beyond Western centric perspectives

South African urban imaginaries: cases from Johannesburg Richard Ballard,Sandiswa Mapukata,2022-06-01 How do government officials elected politicians powerful economic actors and ordinary people think and talk about the urban geography of South Africa How do they describe and represent change that is happening in cities towns and villages Do they consider these changes to be good or bad How do they think such places should change What do they do to try to bring about the changes they desire Competing answers to these questions have been at the centre of South Africa s urban development Through the 19th and 20th centuries white minority governments straddled quite contradictory imaginaries about who could build lives for themselves in urban areas and on what terms Ordinary people held their own urban imaginaries that were quite different to those of white minority governments and were core to the fight for democracy In the democratic era a range of official and popular imaginaries offer diverse visions on how South Africans should be transformed In an earlier collection produced under the GCRO Spatial Imaginaries project we explored the sometimes contradictory nature of post apartheid urban visions with for example with some promoting the creation of new urban settlements on greenfield sites and others attempting to densify and diversify long urbanised spaces Research Report 13 South African urban imaginaries Cases from Johannesburg is a second edited collection under the Spatial Imaginaries project and it uses a series of cases from Johannesburg that illustrate the interactions between urban imaginaries and the material city These cases include the depiction of central business districts in film as spaces of aspiration the way in which the imaginaries of developers in Hillbrow were shaped by the lives of those living there the imaginaries of Alexandra Renewal Project practitioners the way in which residents of Brixton understand diversity and the construction of two new bridges across the M1 to better connect Sandton and Alexandra City of Men Romit Chowdhury,2023-08-11 How do men experience gender in the city Through descriptions of autorickshaw and taxi operators and their interactions with traffic police and commuters in Kolkata India this book highlights the gendered logics of cooperation and everyday morality through which masculinities take up space in cities Everyday Sectarianism in Urban Lebanon Joanne Randa Nucho,2016-12-06 What causes violent conflicts around the Middle East All too often the answer is sectarianism popularly viewed as a timeless and intractable force that leads religious groups to conflict In Everyday Sectarianism in Urban Lebanon Joanne Nucho shows how wrong this perspective can be Through in depth research with local governments NGOs and political parties in Beirut she demonstrates how sectarianism is actually recalibrated on a daily basis through the provision of essential services and infrastructures such as electricity medical care credit and the planning of bridges and roads Taking readers to a working class predominantly Armenian suburb in northeast Beirut called Bourj Hammoud Nucho conducts extensive interviews and observations in medical clinics social service centers shops banking coops and municipal offices She explores how group and individual access to services depends on making claims to membership in the dominant sectarian community and she examines how sectarianism is not just tied to ethnoreligious identity but also class gender and geography Life in Bourj Hammoud makes visible a broader pattern in which the relationships that develop while procuring basic needs become a way for people to see themselves as part of the greater public Illustrating how sectarianism in Lebanon is not simply about religious identity as is commonly thought Everyday Sectarianism in Urban Lebanon offers a new look at how everyday social exchanges define and redefine communities and conflicts The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities Katie Day,Elise M. Edwards,2020-12-30 Like an ecosystem cities develop change thrive adapt expand and contract through the interaction of myriad components Religion is one of those living parts shaping and being shaped by urban contexts The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities is an outstanding interdisciplinary reference source to the key topics problems and methodologies of this cutting edge subject Representing a diverse array of cities and religions the common analytical approach is ecological and spatial It is the first collection of its kind and reflects state of the art research focusing on the interaction of religions and their urban contexts Comprising 29 chapters by a team of international contributors the Handbook is divided into three parts Research methodologies Religious frameworks and ideologies in urban contexts

Contemporary issues in religion and cities Within these sections emerging research and analysis of current dynamics of urban religions are examined including housing economics and gentrification sacred ritual and public space immigration and the refugee crisis political conflicts and social change ethnic and religious diversity urban policy and religion racial justice architecture and the built environment religious art and symbology religion and urban violence technology and smart cities the challenge of climate change for global cities and religious meaning making of the city The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies and urban studies The Handbook will also be very useful for those in related fields such as sociology history architecture urban planning theology social work and cultural studies

Corporatization and the Right to Water in Colombia Marcela López, 2022-05-11 This book explores how conflicts around access to water shape cities citizenship and infrastructures by tracing how water is commodified and controlled by the Public Enterprises of Medellín EPM one of the most successful publicly owned utility companies in the global South Why are water inequalities dramatically increasing in Medellín a city that is located in an area of bountiful water resources and owns a successful established utility company This book explains this paradoxical situation by weaving together two central threads The first is a critical historical analysis of the political economic and ecological conditions that enabled the city's utility company to grow and expand internationally and the second is a rich account of the everyday practices and struggles of residents in low income areas to secure access to water and demand citizenship rights The EPM is a case of global significance as the company continues to expand its commercial operations in the Latin American services market by taking over the utilities in Panama El Salvador and Guatemala Mexico and Chile Although its successful international expansion has been a source of pride and admiration for many Colombians the implementation of market oriented operating principles in all activities of the utility company raises important and complex questions about its public character and responsibility in the provision of basic services which has much wider implications given how it is poised to be a model for other for profit municipal service operations in other Latin American countries This book advances the empirical knowledge of corporatized utilities with a globally significant case as well as providing new theoretical insights with which to understand the limits challenges and opportunities faced by public utility companies to provide affordable and equal access to water in cities This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of water resource management corporatization privatisation and commodification of natural resources urban studies citizenship and human rights environmental sociology and Latin American studies

Urban Studies Inside/Out Helga Leitner, Jamie Peck, Eric Sheppard, 2019-10-28 At a time of intense theoretical debates in urban studies the research practices underlying such theories have not received the same attention This original and creative text interrogates the methodological underpinnings of contemporary urban scholarship with reference to different global sites and situations as well as to recent debates around postcolonial planetary and provincialized urban theories Rather than reducing methodological questions to a matter of tools and techniques it unearths the complex connections between theory research design empirical work expositional style and normative ethical commitments Innovatively co produced by faculty and graduate students from a variety of disciplines Urban Studies Inside Out it is comprised of three parts Part I An introduction to the field of urban studies and its changing theories methodological norms and practices Part II Features a collection of methodological essays co authored by graduate students deconstructing the research designs the methodological practices and the modes of presentation and representation across recent urban monographs Part III Consists of informative keyword primers which explicate the key concepts and formulations in the field of urban studies This volume offers a welcome intervention within urban studies and stands to make a valuable contribution for graduate students and researchers

The Experimental City James Evans, Andrew Karvonen, Rob Raven, 2016-05-20 This book explores how the concept of urban experimentation is being used to reshape practices of knowledge production in urban debates about resilience climate change governance and socio technical transitions With contributions from leading scholars and case studies from the Global North and South from small to large scale cities this book suggests that urban experiments offer novel modes of engagement governance and politics that both challenge and complement conventional strategies The book is organized around three cross cutting themes Part I explores the logics of urban experimentation different approaches and how and why they are deployed Part II considers how experiments are being staged within cities by whom and with what effects Part III examines how entire cities or groups of cities are constructed as experiments This book seeks to contribute a deeper and more socially and politically nuanced understanding of how urban experiments shape cities and drive wider changes in society providing a framework to examine the phenomenon of urban experimentation in conceptual and empirical detail

Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Henrik Ernstson, Erik Swyngedouw, 2018-12-07 Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Interruptions and Possibilities centres on how to organize anew the articulation between emancipatory theory and political activism Across its theoretical and empirical chapters written by leading scholars from anthropology geography urban studies and political science the book explores new political possibilities that are opening up in an age marked by proliferating contestations sharpening socio ecological inequalities and planetary processes of urbanization and environmental change A deepened conversation between urban environmental studies and political theory is mobilized to chart a radically new direction for the field of urban political ecology and cognate disciplines What could emancipatory politics be about in our time What does a return of the political under the aegis of equality and freedom signal today in theory and in practice How do political movements emerge that could re invent equality and freedom as actually existing socio ecological practices The hope is to contribute discussions that can expand and rearrange critical environmental studies to remain relevant in a time of deepening depoliticization and the rise of post truth politics Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene will be of interest to postgraduates established scholars and upper level undergraduates from any discipline or field with an interest in the interface between the urban the environment and the political including geography urban studies environmental studies and political science

Urban Ecologies on the Edge Kristian Karlo Saguin, 2022-06-14 Laguna Lake the largest lake in the Philippines supplies Manila s dense urban region with fish and water while operating as a sink for its stormflows and wastes Transforming the lake to deliver these multiple urban ecological functions however has generated resource conflicts and contradictions that unfold unevenly across space In Urban Ecologies on the Edge Kristian Karlo Saguin tracks the politics of resource flows and unpacks the narratives of Laguna Lake as Manila s resource frontier Provisioning the city and keeping it safe from floods are both frontier making processes that bring together contested socioecological imaginaries practices and relations Combining fieldwork and historical accounts Saguin demonstrates how people powerful and marginalized interact with the state and the environment to produce the unequal landscapes of urbanization at and beyond the city s edge

Transport, Mobility, and the Production of Urban Space Julie Cidell, David Prytherch, 2015-05-01 The contemporary urban experience is defined by flow and structured by circulating people objects and energy Geographers have long provided key insights into transportation systems But today concerns for social justice and sustainability motivate new critical approaches to mobilities Reimagining the city prompts an important question How best to rethink urban geographies of transport and mobility This original book explores connections in theory and practice between transport geographies and new mobilities in the production of urban space It provides a broad introduction to intersecting perspectives of urban geography transport geography and mobilities studies on urban places of flows Diverse international and leading edge contributions reinterpret everyday intersections as nodes urban corridors as links cities and regions as networks and the discourses and imaginaries that frame the politics and experiences of mobility The chapters illuminate nearly all aspects of urban transport from street regulation and roadway planning intended and subversive practices of car and truck drivers planning and promotion of mass transit investments and the restructuring of freight and logistics networks Together these offer a unique and important contribution for social scientists planners and others interested in the politics of the city on the move
