Governance in Transition Ján Buček,Andrew Ryder,2015-04-15 This book looks at experience in government restructuring and devolution from a variety of national and international perspectives both within the European Union and elsewhere focusing on lessons learned and ways forward Since the 1980s there has been a global trend to give more power to local governments Even in Korea and the United Kingdom the most centralised countries in the OECD local government powers have increased with substantial economic benefits Within the European Union the principle of subsidiarity has enshrined the idea of devolution New member states particularly in central and eastern Europe have significantly created new and self sufficient local and regional governments However this process has been complicated Devolution is not a panacea in its own right and need not lead to economic growth While it can encourage savings through collaboration it can also lead to confused lines of authority and can complicate policy formation and implantation Devolution can strain local budgets forcing local governments to rely on their own sources of finance rather than central government transfers Suburbanisation rural depopulation the growth of some regions and the decline of others have raised new problems particularly related to inter governmental cooperation among local governments and different levels of government In many cases an increased number of governments has increased administrative costs actors reliant on the USA for their security but in response to regional events particularly the Arab Spring of 2011 they are pursuing more activist foreign policies which has allowed other international powers to play a larger role in regional affairs This book analyses the changing dynamic in this region with expert contributors providing original empirical case studies that examine the relations between the Gulf monarchies and extra regional powers including the USA Russia China India Brazil Turkey Japan South Korea France and the United Kingdom At the theoretical level these case studies explore the extent to which different international relations and international political economy theories explain change in these relationships as the regional political and security environment shifts Focusing on how and why external powers approach their relationships with the Gulf monarchies contributors ask what motivates external powers to pursue deeper involvement in an unstable region that has seen three major conflicts in the past 40 years Addressing an under analysed yet important topic the volume will appeal to scholars in the fields of international relations and international political economy as well as area specialists on the Gulf and those working on the foreign policy issues of the extra regional powers studied

French Cinema and the Great War Marcelline Block, Barry Nevin, 2016-02-04 Even a century after its conclusion the devastation of the Great War still echoes in the work of artists who try to make sense of the political moral ideological and economic changes and challenges it spawned France the military major power of the Western Front carries the legacy of battles on its own soil and countless French lives lost defending the nation from the Central Powers It is no surprise that the impact of the First World War can still be seen in French films into the present day French Cinema and the Great War Remembrance and Representation provides the first book length study of World War I as it is featured in French cinema from the silent era to contemporary films Presented in three thematic sections Recording and Remembering the Great War Women at the Front and Interrogating Commemoration the essays in this volume explore the ways in which French film contributes to the restoration and modification of memories of the war Films such as La Grande Illusion King of Hearts A Very Long Engagement and Joyeux Noel are among those discussed in the volume s examination of the various ways in which film mediates personal and collective memories of this critical historical event This volume will be an invaluable resource not only to those interested in French Cinema or the cinema of the Great War but also to those interested in the impacts of war more generally on the cultural output of nations torn by the violence death and destruction of military conflict

Traceback of Escherichia coli, 2nd Edition Pina M. Fratamico,Chitrita DebRoy,David S. Needleman,2018-05-02 Pathogenic Escherichia coli strains cause a large number of diseases in humans including diarrhea hemorrhagic colitis hemolytic uremic syndrome urinary tract infections and neonatal meningitis while in animals they cause diseases such as calf scours and mastitis in cattle post weaning diarrhea and edema disease in pigs and peritonitis and airsacculitis in chickens The different E coli pathotypes are characterized by the presence of specific sets of virulence related genes Therefore it is not surprising that pathogenic E coli constitutes a genetically heterogeneous family of bacteria and they are continuing to evolve Rapid and accurate molecular methods are critically needed to detect and trace pathogenic E coli in food and animals They are also needed for epidemiological investigations to enhance food safety as well as animal and human health and to minimize the size and geographical extent of outbreaks The serotype of E coli strains has traditionally been determined using antisera raised against the 180 different O somatic and 53 H flagellar antigens However there are many problems associated with serotyping including it is labor intensive and time consuming cross reactivity of the antisera with different serogroups occurs antisera are available only in specialized laboratories and many strains are non typeable Molecular serotyping targeting O group specific genes within the E coli O antigen gene clusters and genes that are involved in encoding for the different flagellar types offers an improved approach for determining the E coliO and H groups Furthermore molecular serotyping can be coupled with determination of specific sets of virulence genes carried by the strain offering the possibility to determine O group pathotype and the pathogenic potential simultaneously Sequencing of the O antigen gene clusters of all of the known O groups of E coli is now complete and the sequences have been deposited in the GenBank database The sequence information has revealed that some E coli serogroups have identical sequences while others have point mutations or insertion sequences and type as different serogroups in serological reactions There are also a number of other ambiguities in serotyping that need to be resolved Furthermore new E coli O groups are being identified Therefore there is an essential need to resolve these issues and to revise the E coli serotype nomenclature based on these findings There are emerging technologies that can potentially be applied for molecular serotyping and detection and characterization of E coli On a related topic the genome sequence of thousands of E coli strains have been deposited in GenBank and this information is revealing unique markers such as CRISPR clustered regularly interspaced short palindromic repeats and virulence gene markers that could be used to identify E coli pathotypes Whole genome sequencing now provides the opportunity to study the role of horizontal gene transfer in the evolution and emergence of pathogenic E coli strains Whole genome sequencing approaches are being investigated for genotyping and outbreak investigation for regulatory and public health needs however there is a need for establishing bioinformatics pipelines able to handle large amounts of data as we move toward the use of genetic approaches for non culture based detection and characterization of E coli and for outbreak investigations A new genre for television? Justin Hardy,2025-05-27 In A New Genre for Television filmmaker Justin Hardy argues the dramatised history documentaries broadcast by British public service channels in the 2000s constituted a distinct television genre Offering a vital distinction between docudramas and drama documentaries Hardy contributes to the field of television history through exclusive interviews with key figures from BBC and Channel 4 many of whom have never been publicly interviewed before and envisions a future model for the portrayal of national histories on screen Women Artists in Paris, 1850-1900 Laurence Madeline,Pauline Willis,2017-01-01 Paris was the epicenter of art during the latter half of the nineteenth century luring artists from around the world with its academies museums salons and galleries Despite the city s cosmopolitanism and its cultural stature Parisian society remained strikingly conservative particularly with respect to gender Nonetheless many women painters chose to work and study in Paris at this time overcoming immense obstacles to access the city s resources Women Artists in Paris 1850 1900 showcases the remarkable artistic production of women during this period of great cultural change revealing the breadth and strength of their creative achievements Guest Curator Laurence Madeline Chief Curator at Mus es d art et d histoire Geneva has selected close to seventy compelling paintings by women of varied nationalities ranging from well known artists such as Berthe Morisot Mary Cassatt and Rosa Bonheur to lesser known figures such as Kitty Kielland Louise Breslau and Anna Ancher The Algorithmic Society Marc Schuilenburg,Rik Peeters,2020-12-29 We live in an algorithmic society Algorithms have become the main mediator through which power is enacted in our society This book brings together three academic fields Public Administration Criminal Justice and Urban Governance into a single conceptual framework and offers a broad cultural political analysis addressing critical and ethical issues of algorithms Governments are increasingly turning towards algorithms to predict criminality deliver public services allocate resources and calculate recidivism rates Mind boggling amounts of data regarding our daily actions are analysed to make decisions that manage control and nudge our behaviour in everyday life The contributions in this book offer a broad analysis of the mechanisms and social implications of algorithmic governance Reporting from the cutting edge of scientific research the result is illuminating and useful for understanding the relations between algorithms and power Topics covered include Algorithmic governmentality Transparency and accountability Fairness in criminal justice and predictive policing Principles of good digital administration Artificial Intelligence AI in the smart city This book is essential reading for students and scholars of Sociology Criminology Public Administration Political Sciences and Cultural Theory interested in the integration of algorithms into the governance of society

Mathematics and Social Utopias in France Simon Altmann, Eduardo L. Ortiz, 2013-03-30 Social reformer banker and mathematician Olinde Rodrigues is a fascinating figure of nineteenth century Paris Information about him is obscure scattered in publications on history mathematics and the social sciences and often inaccurate Rodrigues left no papers or archives Here for the first time is an authoritative account of his family history education and important mathematical works Written by a team of prominent mathematicians and historians the book comprises the interests and associations that make Rodrigues such a remarkable character in the history of mathematics This is a superb panorama of nineteenth century France portrayed through the life and work of Olinde Rodrigues The beginning chapters attempt to recreate the scientific and social background of nineteenth century Paris and Rodrigues's place in it The following chapters discuss his contributions to a variety of mathematical fields e.g. orthogonal polynomials combinatorics and rotations The final chapters discuss contemporary reactions to his mathematical work Sufficient background is given to make it accessible to readers familiar with basic college mathematics The book is suitable for specialists in the history of mathematics and for science graduate students and mathematicians Co published with the London Mathematical Society beginning with Volume 4

The Franco-Algerian War through a Twenty-First Century Lens Nicole Beth Wallenbrock, 2020-02-20 The Franco Algerian War 1954-62 remains a powerful international symbol of Third Worldism and the finality of Empire Through its nuanced analysis of the war's depiction in film The Franco Algerian War through a Twenty First Century Lens locates an international reckoning with history that both condemns and exonerates past generations Algerian and French production partnerships such as Hors la loi Outside the Law Rachid Bouchareb 2010 and Loubia Hamra Bloody Beans Narimane Mari 2013 are one of several ways citizens collaborate to unearth a shared history and its legacy Nicole Beth Wallenbrock probes cinematic discourse to shed new light on topics including the media revelation of torture and atomic bomb tests immigration's role in the evolution of the war's meaning and the complex relationship of the intertwined film cultures The first chapter summarizes the Franco Algerian War in 20th century film thus grounding subsequent queries with Algeria's moudjahid or freedom fighter films and the French new wave's perceived disinterest in the conflict This book is an invaluable resource for scholars seeking to understand cinema's role in re-evaluating war and reconstructing international memory

The Kyrenia Ship Final Excavation Report, Volume I Susan Womer Katzev, Helena Wylde Swiny, 2022-12-01 The Kyrenia Ship a Greek merchantman built around 315 BC which sank off the north coast of Cyprus was excavated between 1968 and 1972 under the direction of Michael L Katzev of the University of Pennsylvania and Oberlin College The importance of this ship lies in the exceptionally well preserved hull that provided new insights into ancient shipbuilding as well as the cargo it carried The hold was stacked with transport amphoras of various types made on Rhodes with a few examples from Samos Kos Knidos and Cyprus supplemented by a consignment of millstones iron billets and almonds The cabin pottery from Rhodes also suggests this was the vessel's home port a conclusion supported by most of the scientific ceramic analyses Its trade route included Rhodes Cyprus and the Levant with perhaps Egypt as a final destination This volume provides a detailed history of the excavation followed by definitive studies of the amphora cargo and the pottery associated with shipboard life Some of the amphora stamps suggest that the ship sank between 294 and 291 BC dates corroborated by the cabin wares The repetition of four drinking cups kantharoi oil containers gutti wine measures olpai as well as bowls and saucers suggests that the ship was sailed by a crew of four Seven bronze coins were recovered five minted in the name of Alexander the Great and one well known type of Ptolemy I produced only on Cyprus

Radicalization in Western Europe Carolin Görzig, Khaled Al-Hashimi, 2014-09-15 Employing a theoretical framework based on the concept of identity loss this book seeks to understand why increased integration has stimulated greater radicalization among the Muslim populations in Western Europe Through extensive field research in four European countries the UK the Netherlands Germany and France the authors investigate three key questions 1 Why are 2nd and 3rd generations of Muslims in Europe more radical than their parents 2 Why does Europe experience more home grown terrorism today than thirty or forty years ago 3 Why do some European countries feature more radical Muslim communities than others The book reveals that these three puzzling questions can be solved when analyzing the loss of individuality in the face of integration and identification with European society While Individualist and structural approaches fail to explain radicalization of Muslims in Europe this study by framing radicalization through coupling the public discourse with identity loss provides a much needed insight into the process of radicalization Explaining radicalization and gaining an understanding of the drivers of radicalization is crucial to prevent and mitigate intercultural alienation to further develop immigration policies redress integration failures as well as to avoid dangerous oversimplifications This book contributes not only to understanding why greater integration is matched by increasing radicalization but its insights also contribute to developing ideas about how radicalization can be prevented or overcome and integration policies can be enhanced This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism and counter terrorism radical Islam war and conflict studies European politics IR and security studies
