Handbook of UV Degradation and Stabilization George Wypych, 2020-03-13 Handbook of UV Degradation and Stabilization Third Edition discusses different aspects of UV related phenomena that occur when polymeric materials are exposed to UV radiation It reviews existing literature looking at how plants animals and humans protect themselves against UV radiation This review permits evaluation of mechanisms of protection against UV used by living things and potential application of these mechanisms in the protection of natural and synthetic polymeric materials Other chapters look at more specific aspects of UV degradation and stabilization such as specific polymers and rubbers analytical methods used in UV stabilization health and safety and more This book is an excellent companion to the Databook of UV stabilizers which has also been published recently Both books supplement each other without repeating the same information one contains data another theory mechanisms of action practical effects and implications of application

Research Advances of Modification and Nutrition Properties of Food Carbohydrates, volume I YanJun Zhang,Jianhua Xie,Bin Li,Srinivas Janaswamy,2023-10-20 As a group of important biopolymers carbohydrates exist widely in living organisms and play many known and unknown biological roles in life activities via different pathways Traditionally carbohydrate polymers e g starch pectin polysaccharide and dietary fiber are widely applied in industrial applications e g pharmaceuticals food stuff biofuels and biomaterials and a growing understanding and deeper investigation of food carbohydrate are driving the development of natural carbohydrate for novel applications especially for the treatment of chronic diseases e g hyperlipidemia obesity and diabetes In recent years the gut microbiota has been considered an important organ and plays a critical role in host health and diseases and emerging evidence indicates that food carbohydrates are effective for the modulation of gut microbiota In addition the modification of carbohydrate polymers could alter or enhance their nutrition properties which may extend their applications Notably the nutrition properties of carbohydrate polymers are dependent on their chemical structures and chain conformations and thus the structural identification of carbohydrate polymers and their derivatives is helpful for their development and application in the food and pharmaceutical fields

Cyberspace in Peace and War Martin Libicki,2016-10-15 This book is written to be a comprehensive guide to cybersecurity and cyberwar policy and strategy developed for a one or two semester class for students of public policy including political science law business etc Although written from a U S perspective most of its contents are globally relevant It is written essentially in four sections The first chapters 1 5 describes how compromises of computers and networks permit unauthorized parties to extract information from such systems cyber espionage and or to force these systems to misbehave in ways that disrupt their operations or corrupt their workings The section examines notable hacks of systems fundamental challenges to cybersecurity e g the lack of forced entry the measure countermeasure relationship including the role of malware and various broad approaches to cybersecurity The second chapters 6 9 describes what government policies can and as importantly cannot be expected to do to improve a nation s cybersecurity thereby leaving leave countries less susceptible to cyberattack by others Among its focus areas are approaches to countering nation scale attacks the cost to victims of broad scale cyberespionage and how to balance intelligence and cybersecurity needs The third chapters 10 15 looks at cyberwar in the context of military operations Describing cyberspace as the 5th domain of warfare feeds the notion that lessons learned from other domains e g land sea apply to cyberspace In reality cyberwar a campaign of disrupting corrupting computers networks is quite different it rarely breaks things can only be useful against a sophisticated adversary competes against cyber espionage and has many first strike characteristics The fourth chapters 16 35 examines strategic cyberwar within the context of state on state relations It examines what strategic cyberwar and threats thereof can do against whom and how countries can respond It then considers the possibility and limitations of a deterrence strategy to modulate such threats covering credibility attribution thresholds and punishment as well as whether denial can deter It continues by examining sub rosa attacks where neither the effects nor the attacker are obvious to the public the role of proxy cyberwar the scope for brandishing cyberattack capabilities including in a nuclear context the role of narrative and signals in a conflict in cyberspace questions of strategic stability and norms for conduct in cyberspace particularly in the context of Sino U S relations and the role played by international law The last chapter considers the future of cyberwar

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1916 Author and subject index to a selected list of periodicals not included in the Readers guide and to composite books International Index to Periodicals ,1915 An author and subject index to publications in fields of anthropology archaeology and classical studies economics folklore geography history language and literature music philosophy political science religion and theology sociology and theatre arts Uganda ,1993 Assesses Uganda s urgent social problems lack of education poor health and high population growth and means for alleviating them This study concludes that if Uganda s social conditions among the world s worst are to improve social spending must be both increased and better allocated Three areas are considered critical Education Although the great majority of children enter primary school by secondary school enrollment drops to only 13 percent overall and to 7 percent for girls This dropout rate is largely attributed to high fees and poor learning conditions The study recommends expanding access to primary education by restructuring government expenditure and private spending Health Uganda s infant mortality is 70 percent higher than the average among low income countries and its death rate is double the average Because the leading causes of illness and death are preventable albeit sometimes with great difficulty the study recommends that health policy be reoriented toward public health and prevention Family planning Given that up to 70 percent of women have a favorable attitude toward family planning the study recommends that the urgent problem of high fertility be immediately addressed by making family planning services widely available The report stresses that government policies should take into account the interrelationships among social problems for example the correlation of low female education to high fertility infant mortality and child malnutrition Proceedings of the Annual Convention Association of Official Agricultural Chemists (U.S.),1910
