

Memorandum

Dated: 14 January 2023

To: Sales & Marketing Group

From: Praveenkumar Revankar, Product Engineering

Subject: Delay in release timelines of Feature A and Feature B.

Purpose:

The purpose of this document is to notify the cross-functional group about sudden changes in release timelines of Feature A and Feature B and to reinform the group to reprioritize certain tasks for Sales and Marketing for the release.

Background/Context:

We have been working together on our key USP features 'Feature A' and 'Feature B' for targeting their release this quarter. Due to unforeseen circumstances, there is a change in the release timelines and the new timeline will be shared shortly in Scrum of Scrum meeting where a representative from Sales has been invited.

Action:

Even though it looks like a major setback and current activities w.r.t. The release can be paused, there are certain actions that have to be performed in this quarter. The same has been conveyed in Jira, marking the work items with labels "Q1_Paused" and "Q1_Must." Please reprioritize your internal activities based on the labels in Jira and ensure a final plan reflected in Jira on or before 30 January 2023.

Conclusion:

We might be delayed with the release but we are not affecting the business. The necessary strategy is defined and put in place to ensure customers can solve their problems using our support until Feature A and Feature B release.

Thanks,
Praveenkumar Revankar

Exploring Politeness in Business Emails Vera Freytag, 2019-10-11 Exploring Politeness in Business Emails explores the contextual complexities of workplace emails by comparing British English and Peninsular Spanish directive speech events and systematically assessing the impact of contextual factors Through a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods of data collection and analysis and the inclusion of metapragmatic insights in the interpretation of the results the book offers an innovative approach to the study of politeness The book partially contradicts previous assumptions about English and Spanish directives and provides new insights into the role of politeness in the workplace By offering a meticulous account of the linguistic choices made by the English and Spanish first language users and the contextual factors influencing these choices the book suggests far reaching implications for future research in cross cultural pragmatics and business discourse as well as practical implications relevant for academics postgraduate students and practitioners interested in these fields

Transforming the Urban University Richard M. Freeland, 2019-03-25 In Transforming the Urban University Richard M Freeland reviews how Northeastern University in Boston historically an access oriented private urban university serving commuter students from modest backgrounds and characterized by limited academic ambitions and local reach transformed itself into a selective national and residential research university Having served as president during a critical decade in this transition Freeland recounts the school s efforts to retain key features from Northeastern s urban history an emphasis on undergraduate teaching and learning a curriculum focused on preparing students for the workplace its signature program of cooperative education and its broad involvement in the life of the city while at the same time raising admission standards recruiting students on a regional and national basis improving graduation rates expanding opportunities for research and graduate education and dramatically improving its U S News ranking Freeland situates the Northeastern story within the evolving context of urban higher education as well as broader trends among American universities during the second half of the twentieth century He documents the way Northeastern maintained its historic values while making innovative use of modern marketing techniques to meet the competitive conditions of the academic marketplace He shows how Northeastern rejected the standard model of the modern research university and instead reinvented itself as a new kind of urban university making excellence in the undergraduate experience its top priority stressing practice oriented education and research and emphasizing the academic benefits of its urban setting as well as the importance of contributing to the well being of its host city In chronicling Northeastern's recovery from what the school's trustees called a near death experience Freeland challenges the conventional narrative of what a university must do to achieve top tier national status

Transitional Justice and Reconciliation Martina Fischer, Olivera Simic, 2015-11-06 Scholars and practitioners alike agree that somehow the past needs to be addressed in order to enable individuals and collectives to rebuild trust and relationships However they also continue to struggle with critical questions When is the right moment to address the legacies of the past after violent conflict How can societies address the past without deepening the pain that arises from memories related to the violence and crimes committed in war How can cultures of remembrance be established that would include and acknowledges the victims of all sides involved in violent conflict How can various actors deal constructively with different interpretations of facts and history Two decades after the wars societies in Bosnia Serbia and Croatia albeit to different degrees are still facing the legacies of the wars of the 1990s on a daily basis Reconciliation between and within these societies remains a formidable challenge given that all three countries are still facing unresolved disputes either at a cross border level or amongst parallel societies that persist at a local community level This book engages scholars and practitioners from the regions of former Yugoslavia as well as international experts to reflect on the achievements and obstacles that characterise efforts to deal with the past Drawing variously on empirical studies theoretical discussions and practical experience their contributions offer invaluable insights into the complex relationship between transitional justice and conflict transformation
